A.H.S.: The Place To Be

1987 Andersonian • Anderson High School

Far Right: Pam Wilfert spies someone behind her. Right: For sleeping or eating, the cafeteria has many uses for Amy Harris, Heather Bogert, and Amy Harrison.

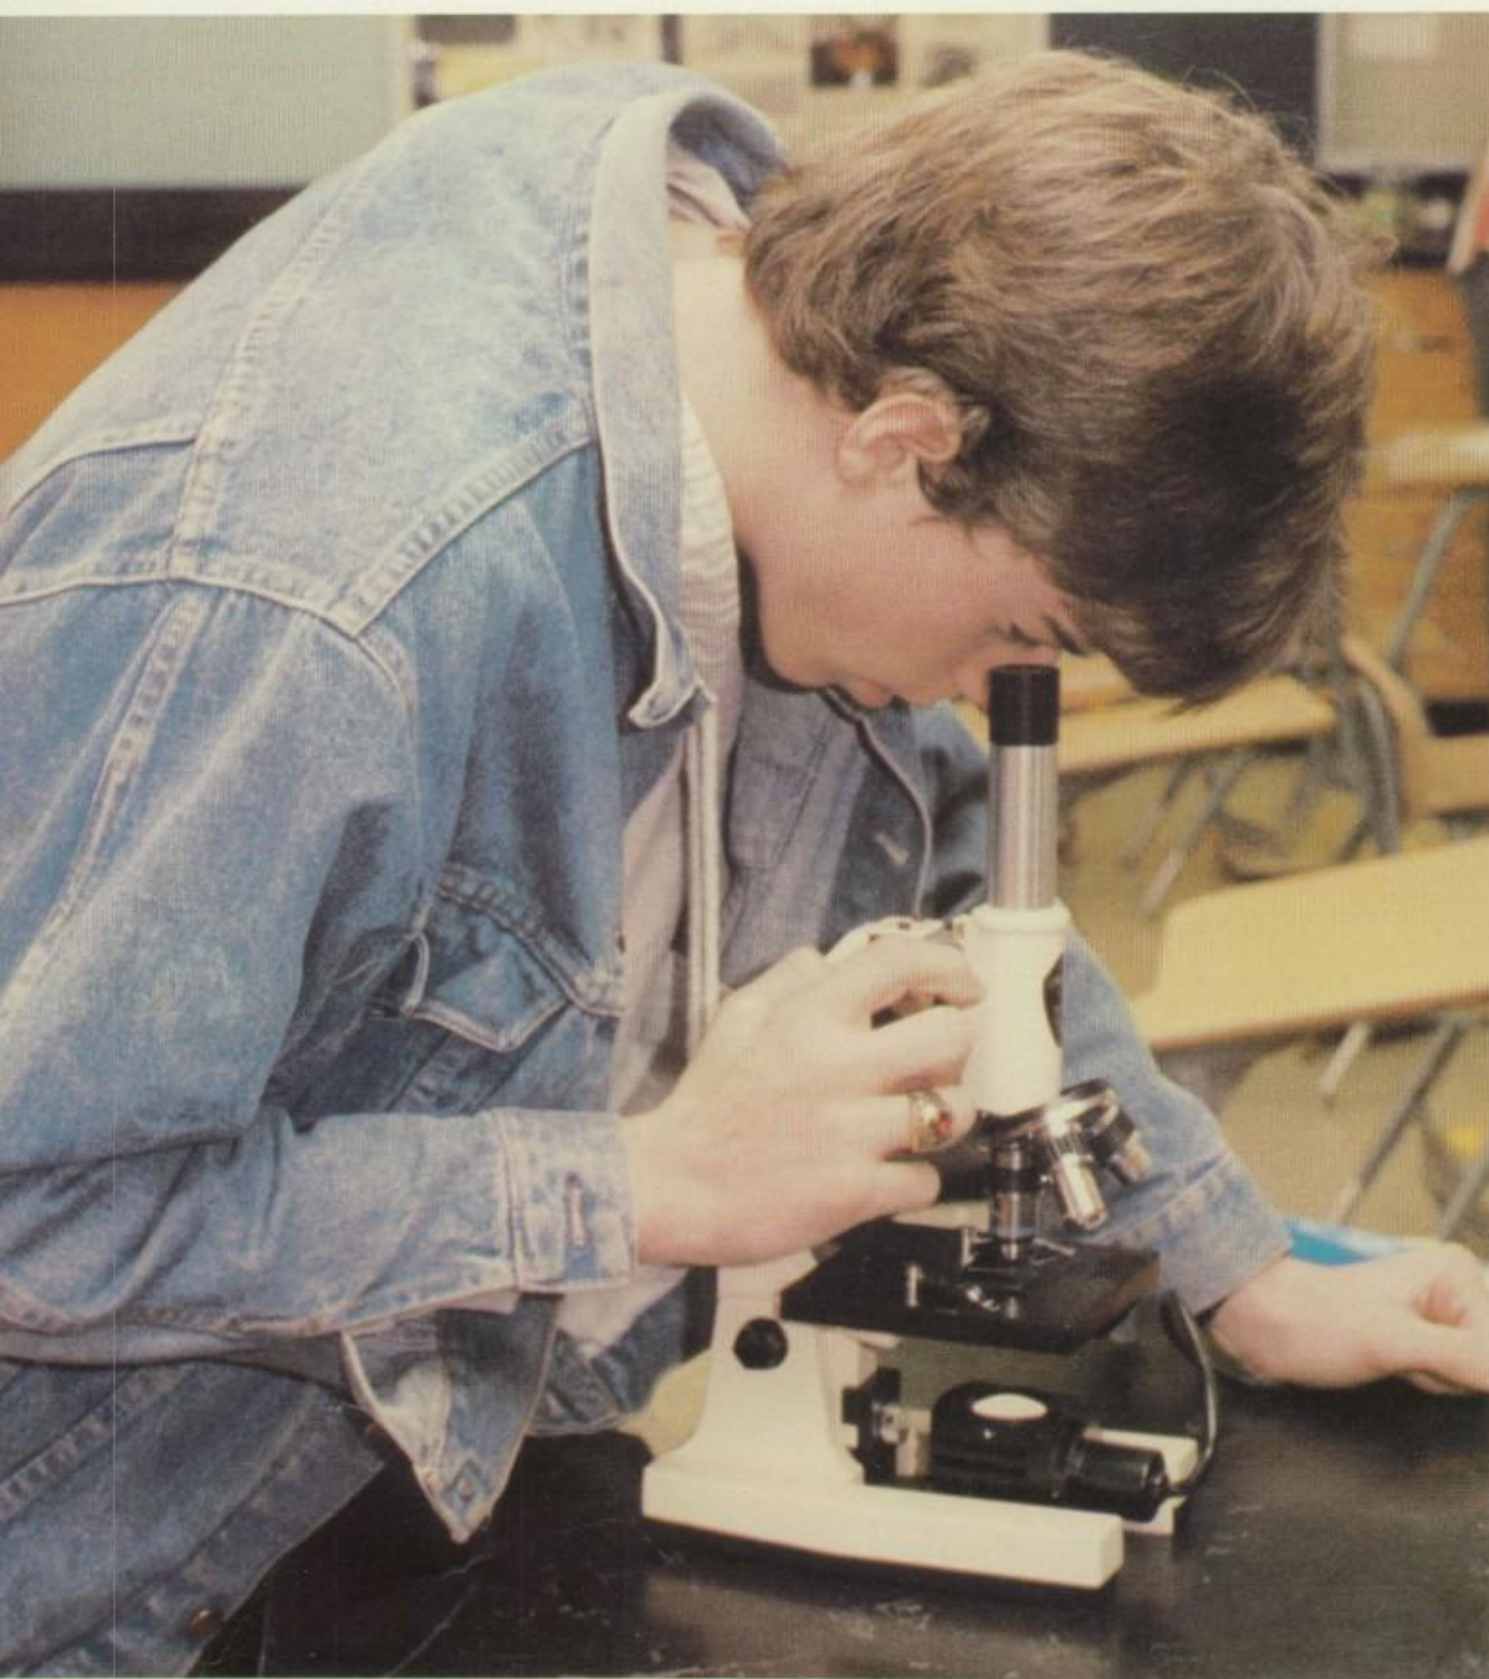

A.H.S. was the place to be — this was our year to shine.

We began on the right foot with our Cross Country Team taking us all the way to the state finals. The Golf Team never seemed to be in the rough, proven by their first place 12-1 record. Once again, the Soccer Team's top players gained city honors. The Football Team had a stirring win over longtime rival Turpin, the highlight of the season.

A.H.S. was the place to be to see a first class Homecoming Weekend. Although Mother Nature rained on our parade, she didn't dampen our spirits. The Class of '88 won the float competition by best developing the international motif. Anderson was kept in suspense for an extra day before learning the identity of the Homecoming Queen, Reagan Smith.

Top: The cafeteria is taken over by Mitch Plapp, Claus Hermansen, Ray Sumner, Brian Hock, Doug Render, Keith Jenkins, John Roberts, and Sean Proffitt. Left: Todd Albertz hopes a scope will clear things up. Above: Andy Snyder and Andy Skadberg make fashion statements.

This was the place to be to swing, according to the Marching Band. The theme of this year's Band Sweetheart Dance was the "Swingin' Thirties" with the foremost event being the crowning of Band Sweetheart, Kelly Bartels.

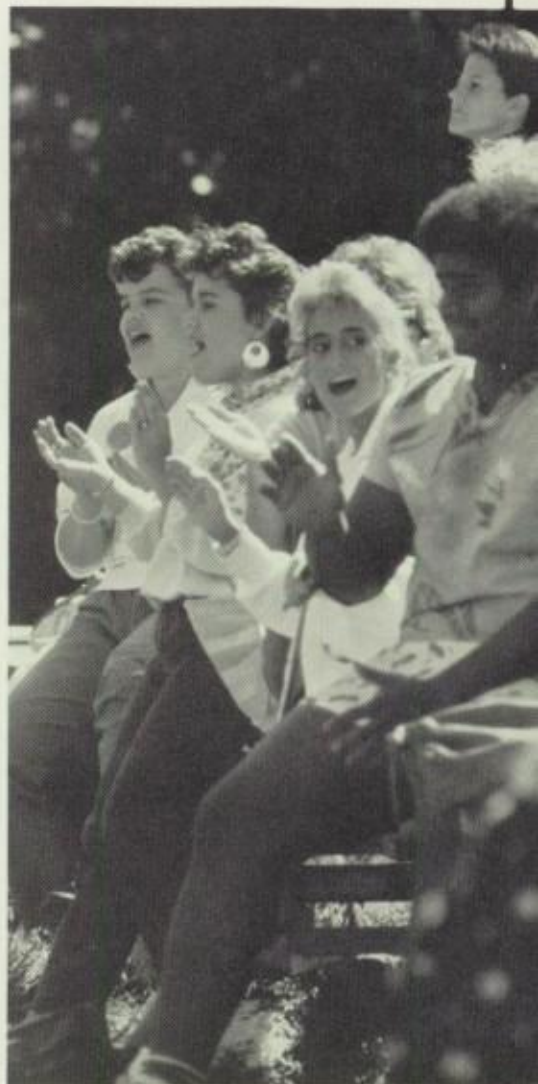

On another note, our Marching Band won the Glen Este Invitational again, with the Color Guard also taking first place. Maria Lisac and Mark Sumpter both received Forestaires Scholarships. The Ohio All-State Choir named John Buswell, Melanie Shear, Rob Wilkinson, Mark Sumpter, Dana Williamson, and Karen Ary among its members.

On a scholarly note, A.H.S. was the place to be to find many students who did well in the National Merit Semi-finals: John Brown, Thomas Brunner, Scott Heyward, Amy Minning, Ed Sweeney, and David Warner. National Merit Commended Students included Mike Abbott, Scott Atkinson, Chris Bates, Steve Clark, Michelle Hannan, Jenny Hoagland, Sheri Jenkins, Maria Lisac, Missy McDonald, Erin McKee, Cindy Meyers, Jill Pearson, and Lisa Wissinger.

A.H.S. was the place to be to get a helping hand, provided by The Room, Aftercare, Peer Counseling, and Teen Leader. Local and national interest in these programs resulted in aired segments on CBS News and various local news and PBS programs.

A.H.S. was again the place to be for outstanding entertainment from the Drama Club and Music Department. The Drama Club performed the comedy Fools and the drama Amadeus. The Music Department's orchestras, bands, and choruses provided entertainment year-round.

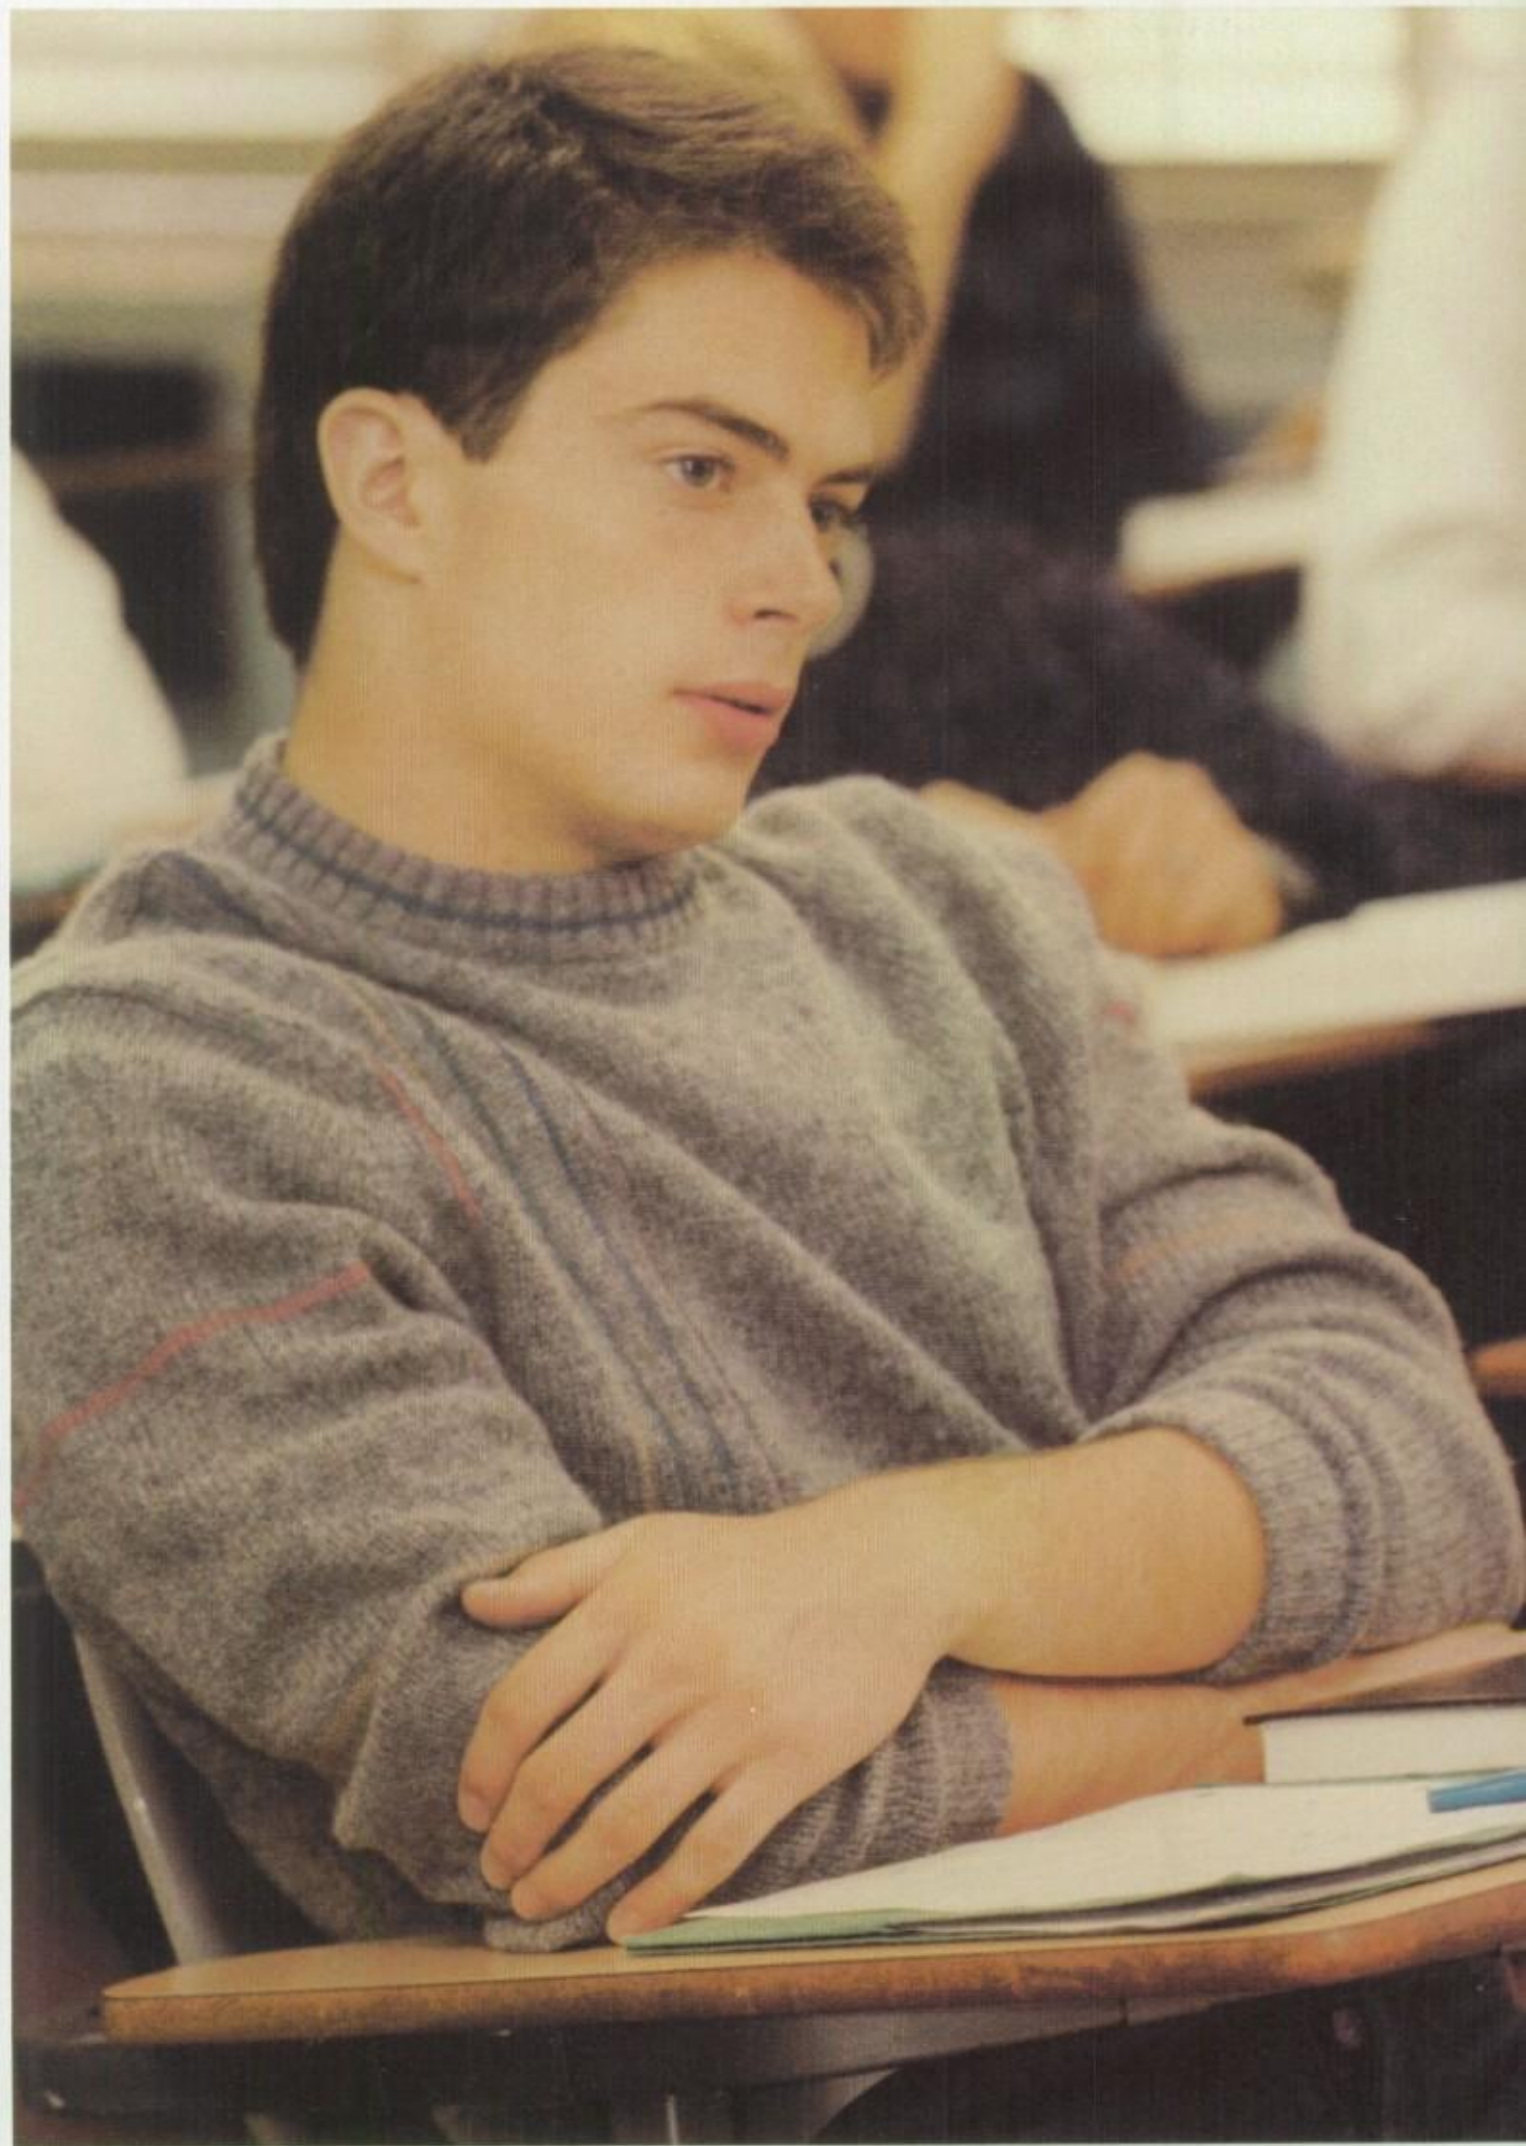

Another aspect of entertainment was provided by Mr. Roger Grooms, social studies teacher and theater director, who appeared regularly as Channel 12's entertainment critic. John Brown, an A.H.S. stage veteran, appeared in a film which was aired on national television. Richard Oberacker worked as the musical director in various local productions; in competition he was named for "excellence in musical presentation" in the Mariemont Players production of Is There Life After High School?

A.H.S. was the home base for world travellers like Amy Minning, who studied for two months in Japan; Susan Brewer, who also studied in Japan; Tawnya Johnson, who lived in Switzerland for six weeks and traveled to Austria, Germany, Leichtenstein, and Sweden; and Kelley Sharkey, who lived in Denmark for nine weeks and travelled to Germany and Sweden. Since turnabout is fair play, A.H.S. welcomed foreign exchange students Hiroshi Missaki from Brazil, Jochen Schiller from West Germany, and Claus Hermansen from Denmark.

A.H.S. was the place to be for outstanding students such as Amy Minning, NCTE Writing Finalist; Annette Christianson, Oscar Barnes, Student of the Month; John Brown, one of three area nominees for the Governor's Youth Recognition Award; Chris Bates, finalist in the BGSU Social Studies Writing Competition; A.H.S. Math Team, first place in the Rose Hulman Math Contest; Thomas Brunner, Mike Conlin, David Warner, Maria Lisac, and Amy Minning, county winners in the Ohio University American History Contest.

A.H.S. was the place to be in 1987 — this was our year to shine!

ACTIVITIES

Kelly Bartels: Band Sweetheart

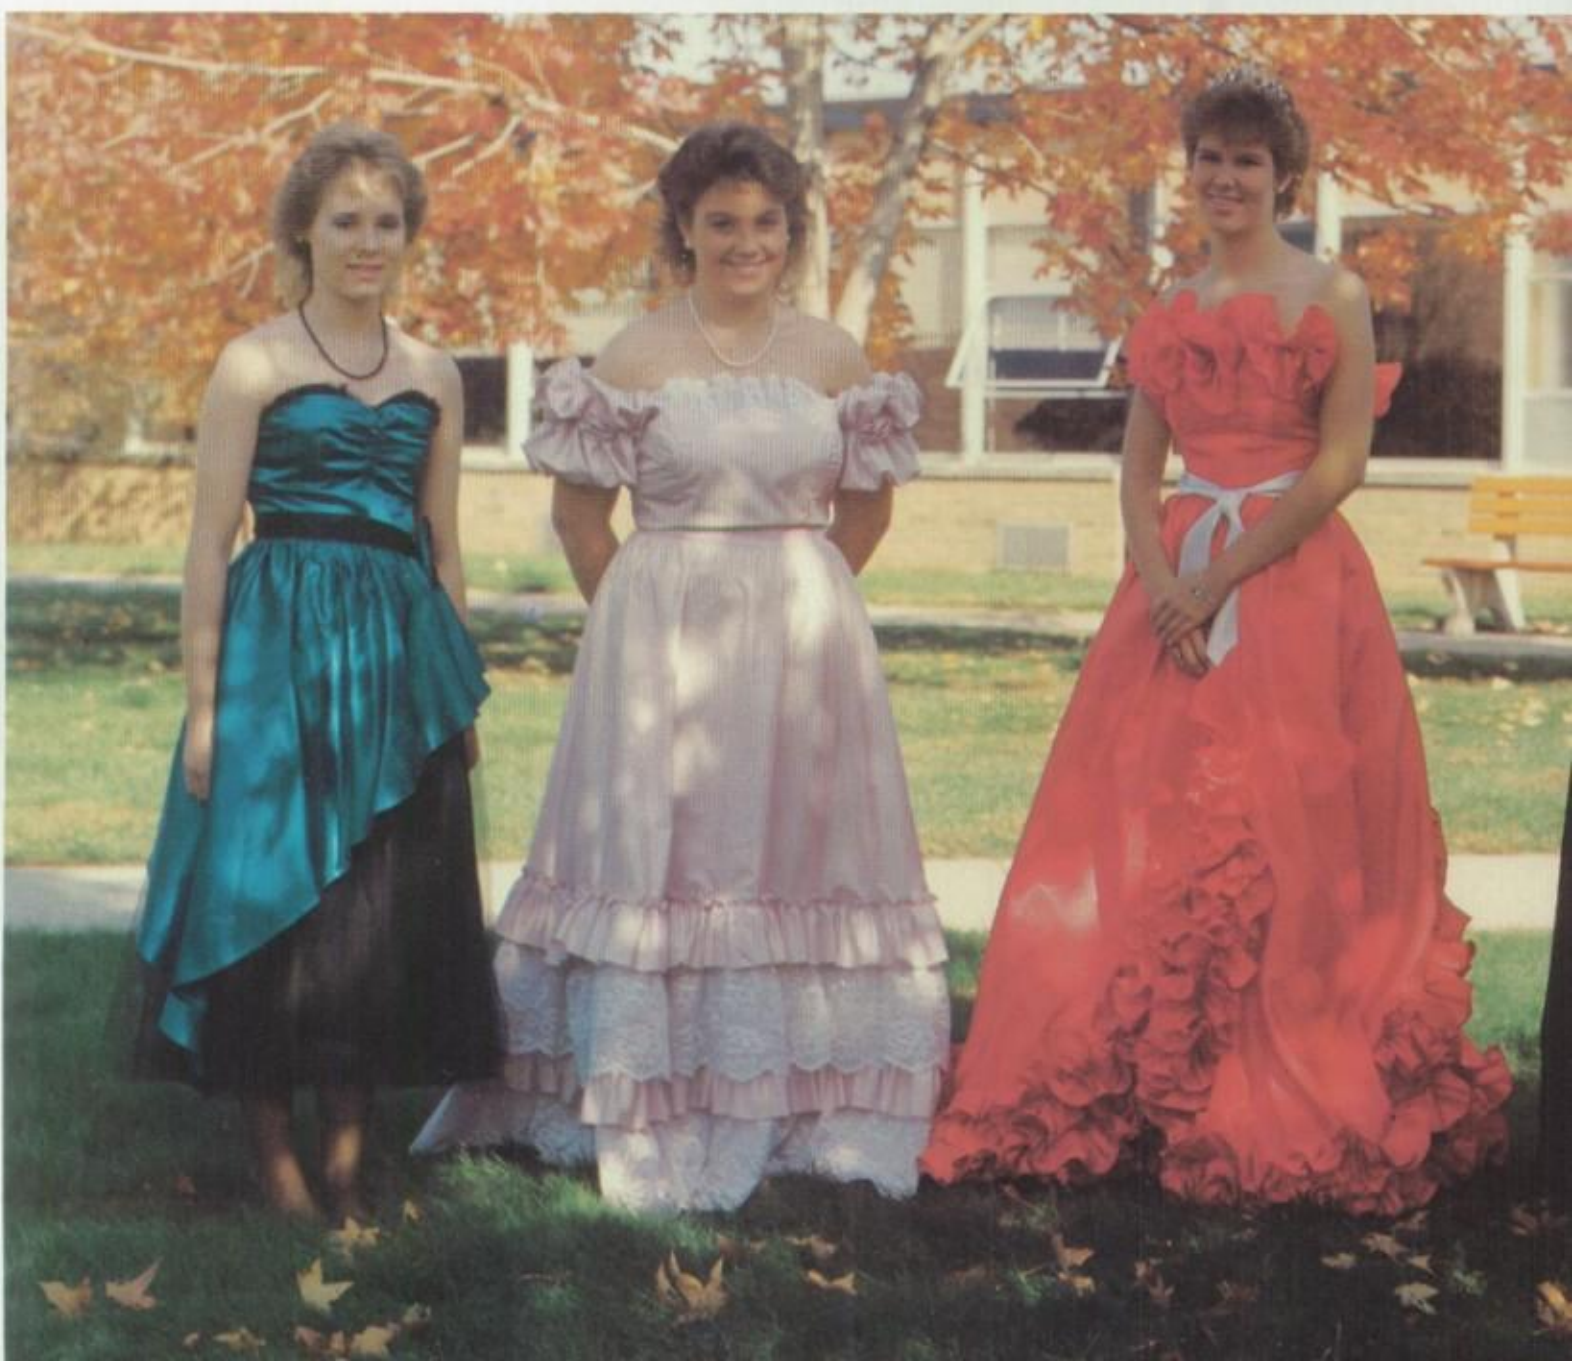

The Marching Band held its annual Band Sweetheart Dance with the halftime festivities highlighting the evening. The sweetheart nominees were Karen Bailey, escorted by Tom Huesman; Kelly Bartels, escorted by Tim Rodgers; Jill Pearon, escorted by Ed Sweeney; Pam Alley, escorted by Jeff Osburn; and Tonya Schmitt, escorted by Aaron Adkins. The band played and marched onto the field dressed as gangsters, and when the fanfare was played, Kelly Bartels was crowned Band Sweetheart 1986. Although the football team lost, everyone had fun after the game at the Band Sweetheart Dance, where Steve Bender of Q102 spun the records.

Plans Go Down The Drain

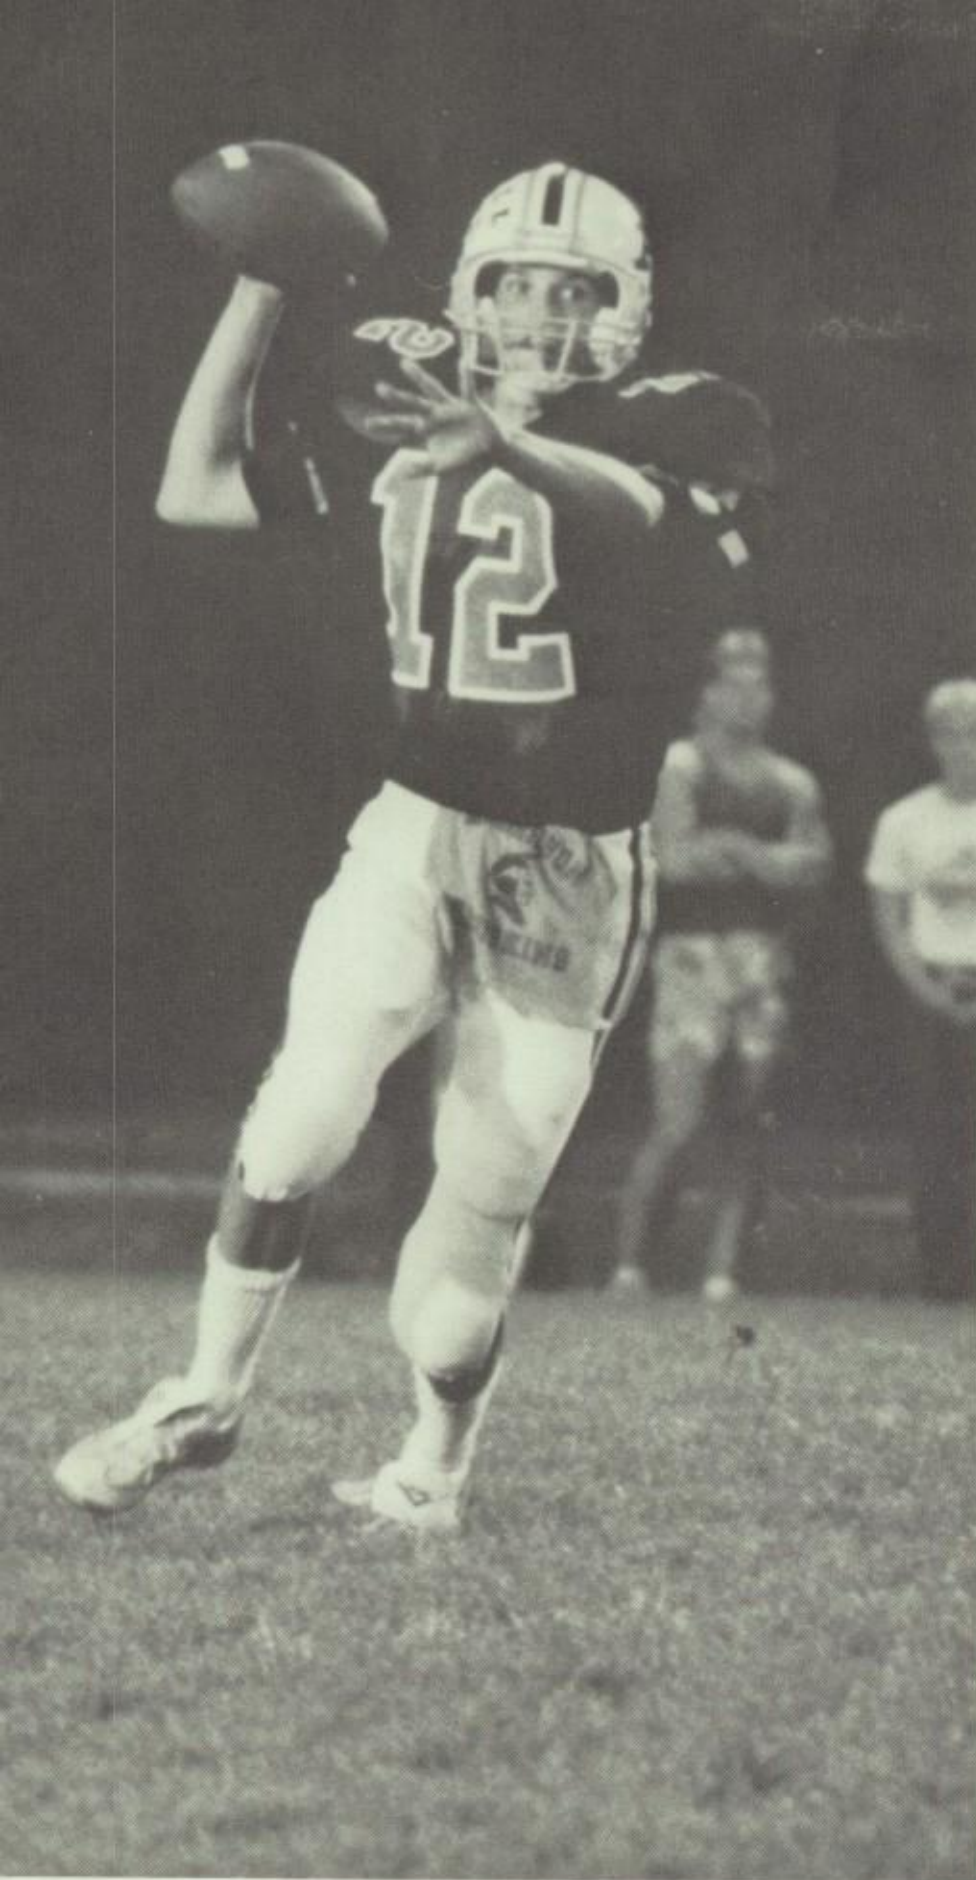

The annual Homecoming game between Anderson and Milford was scheduled; however, the whole month should have been labeled "Homecoming Month." It was then that all of the preparations took place for the game, the parade, and the dance. The class presidents were busy planning and building their floats. The band practiced their special half-time routine. The Student Council dance committees were printing tickets, collecting food, and planning decorations. The Executive Board was organizing the pre-game and half-time parades, as well as conducting the election for the Homecoming Queen.

The big day finally arrived. The parade was set; Tracy Cox, the 1985 Queen, was ready to crown her successor; the football players were ready to kill Milford; and the Marching Band had its routine committed to memory. Everything was ready for an exciting evening.

... everything, that is, except the weather. The pre-game parade was successful with the floats and Homecoming Court parading before the crowd. But eight minutes into the game, the torrential rains began, dashing any hopes for the game to continue. Disappointment was etched into the faces of the Homecoming Court as they would have to wait one more night for the crowning of the Homecoming Queen 1986.

Reagan Reigns

Because of the rained-out game the night before, Saturday marked the day that all of the Homecoming festivities took place: the game; the dance, the announcement of the float winners, and best of all, the crowning of the queen. The football team lost to Milford, but everyone had fun at the dance as Happy Kamper belted out tune after tune. Over two hundred couples filled the dance floor. For the third straight year, the juniors beat the other classes in the float competition, but the sophomores were a close second. The freshmen and seniors came in third and fourth places respectively. But everyone was waiting for the big moment. The Homecoming Court consisted of freshmen Brenda Alvarez and Kelly Krase, sophomores Lynn Tummler and Sandy Ross, and juniors Kim Kendall and Kathy Keeton. The queen candidates were Kelly Sharkey, Betsy Vogel, and Reagan Smith. The escorts were Brian Young, Don Marcello, Rob Stoll, Matt Yerkes, Ron Cooke, Chris Bates, Jim Diana, Rob Bausch, Jerry Hesketh. David Warner escorted last year's queen Tracy Cox. Finally after two months of planning and hard work, the winner was announced. Everyone cheered as Reagan Smith stepped forward and was crowned Homecoming Queen 1986. The night eventually wound down, but as it did, plans were already being made for next year's homecoming.

Yearbook Party A Success

And they're off! On a warm, fall afternoon, hundreds of yearbook-hungry students burst through the cafeteria doors to pick up their 1986 Andersonians. Within one hour, over 500 yearbooks passed from the staff's hands into the hands of the student body. The Yearbook Distribution Party was like a one-year reunion with '86 graduates coming back to visit friends and sign yearbooks. The sophomores stared in awe at the large gathering. Despite 90 degree temperatures, students sat inside the cafeteria and signed books. The last stragglers departed at 5:00, making the 1986 Yearbook Distribution a success.

Neil Simon's Fools Staged

On November 6 and 7, Anderson's Drama Club presented Neil Simon's Fools. This comedy tells the story of a village in Russia which is cursed with stupidity. Directed by Mr. Roger Grooms, the play showcased the talents of the following: John Buswell (Leon), Maria Lisac (Sophia), Mark Ernst (Nikolai Zubritsky), Kris Kibby (Lenya Zubritsky), John Brown (Count Gregor), Ted Geisler (Snetskey), Scott Adams (Slovitch), Kristin Orr (Yenchna), Tim Abbott (Mishkin), Scott Dickerson (the Magistrate), and Annette Christianson (Grandma Zeitel).

Festival Of Music

The Christmas Instrumental Concert was held on the evening of December 10th. The Orchestra, Band, and Jazz Band were featured in this holiday extravaganza of music. The Jazz Band performed "Let It Snow" and

"God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen" while the Orchestra delighted the audience with "Holly Holy." The holiday songs warmed the hearts of the audience and left them in a festive holiday mood.

“The Festival Of Lights”

On December 13, the Christmas Formal took place. Over 250 couples attended and danced to the music of Rubber Soul. Santa Claus arrived later in the evening to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. But the highlight of the evening was the outstanding decorations in the cafeteria and courtyard. The theme was “The Festival of Lights” and for good reason. A huge decorated Christmas tree stood in one corner of the dance floor. Outside, the courtyard was brilliantly illuminated with Christmas lights and candles. All in all, it was a very romantic evening.

Vocal Dept. Spreads Cheer

On Sunday December 14, the vocal department once again spread its Christmas cheer through song in the traditional Christmas Concert. A variety of sacred and secular numbers sung by the choruses and soloists rang through the auditorium and created an impressive show. Featured soloists were Kristi Brookshire, Shannon McGee, John Buswell, Mark Sumpter, and Maria Lisac. Highlights included "White Christmas," "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year," "Ave Maria," "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Silent Night," and the "Hallelujah Chorus." Mr. Wesp, Ms. Wetzel, and Miss Reeves were the directors.

Tough Talk From Toma

On Wednesday, February 25, David Toma visited Anderson High School for the second time in two years. This year, the element of surprise was gone, but the message was the same: Don't use drugs.

This year, however, it was closer to home. Toma introduced several Turpin students at the Anderson talk. Many of the students gave tearful confessions about drug abuse and suicide. After the Turpin students spoke, Toma invited several Anderson students to join them. These students addressed such problems as drugs, alcohol, and prejudice against others in the school.

Toma does not usually visit a school district twice. This second visit was arranged by The Community Coordinating Council for Youth (CCCY), which won a Freedom Foundation award for arranging his last visit.

Sadie Hawkins: Barn Bash '87

In this once-a-year role reversal dance, the girls had to once again get up the courage to ask their favorite guy out. But not only did the girls get to pick up the guys, they got to pick up the tab.

On February 28th, guys and girls alike dressed in their best country duds and headed out to the Sadie Hawkins Dance, titled "Barn Bash '87." "Fast Forward" played Top-40 tunes as well as some of their own music from 9:00 until midnight. During the dance, Dale Geis was named Sadie's Beau. His court included other Sadie's Beau nominees John Roberts and Jim Diana. Sadie's Buddies included junior Korey Mitchell, sophomore John Diana, and freshman Scott Thomas.

Amadeus

The Drama Club presented its spring play Amadeus on March 6, 7, and 9. Roger Grooms directed it and Richard Oberacker was the student director.

Antonio Salieri, the play's main character, is a musician in the 18th Century and the 19th Century who wishes to please God with his music. He becomes a court composer, works very hard, but only creates mediocre works of music. Enter Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, an obnoxious and disrespectful musician who has an unmistakable laugh. Salieri wishes to please God with his music, but when he sees his failures against Mozart's successes, he revolts against God and vows to destroy God's instrument — Mozart. But he goes too far in his revenge and tries to kill himself and is unsuccessful at that also. The cast consisted of John Brown, Antonio Salieri; Richard Oberacker, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart; Temple Gill, Constanze Weber; Mark Ernst, Emperor Joseph II; Scott Heyward, Johann Von Strack; Mark Sumpter, Baron Van Swieten; Darrick Wood, Rosenberg; Kristin Orr and Jenny Hoagland, Venticelli; George Lin and Fritz Elsasser, Two Gallants; Maria Lisac, Katherina Cavalieri; Tim Abbott, Guiseppe Bonno; Maren Hansen, Theresa Salieri; Jill Pearson, Cook; Matt Parker, Valet; Jill Pearson, George Lin, Tim Abbott, Fritz Elsasser, Jennifer Loyd-Jones and Maren Hansen, Citizens.

Academic Letter Awards

On Tuesday, April 7th, the second annual Academic Letter Ceremony was held. Awards were given to students with a 3.50 cumulative grade point average. First year recipients received a letter; second year award winners received a bar to be placed upon the letter they received last year.

The ceremony was held in the cafeteria. Speeches were given by Mr. Hall, Mr. Harris, and Mrs. Brough on the subject of high scholastic achievement.

Cum Laude Society

On the evening of Wednesday, April 15, Anderson held its very first initiation ceremony of the Cum Laude Society. Established in 1908, the society recognizes and encourages exceptional academic achievement. The Cum Laude Society is limited to those students who have accumulated a grade point average of 4.0 or better. This year, twenty-two seniors and ten juniors were initiated into this prestigious group.

Mr. Porter, president of the Cum Laude Society, gave the welcome and initiated the student members as well as the Charter Members which included Marvin Collins, Dennis Devine, Patrick Ellis, Kenneth Furrier, Michael Hall, Jean Harris, William Harris, Edward Hoffer, Vera Nash Langshaw, Joseph Porter, Judy Stewart, and Michael Ward. Mr. Furrier, secretary, explained the history of the Society, and Mr. Hoffer, superintendent, gave his remarks concerning excellence in scholastic achievements.

The band Nouvo kept the dance floor filled with excited students celebrating the end of the year. At the stroke of midnight, an aisle on the dance floor was cleared for the Prom Court to make its grand entrance. Everyone cheered as King John Roberts and Queen Andrea Ferguson were crowned. Prom Court members included Rob Bausch, Jim Diana, Fred Krase, Brian Young, Amy Cummings, Kelly Sharkey, Reagan Smith, and Betsy Vogel.

Commencement: Class Of '87

On Sunday, May 31, 1987, the music of "Pomp and Circumstance" resonated throughout Springer Auditorium at Music Hall as the Senior Class of 1987 marched down the aisle to receive their diplomas from Anderson High School.

Amy Cummings began the ceremony with the invocation, which was followed by the welcome and greetings from Mark Stoller. Later, David Stubenrauch reminisced about the past with "Words of Time" and Ed Sweeney looked toward the future with "We'll Go On Shining." Scott Adams closed with the benediction.

Also during the ceremony the Senior Ensemble bid its adieu in its song "We Must Say Good-bye." Senior soloist Richard Oberacker performed Grieg's Piano Concerto in A Minor, Op. 16, Allegro Molto Moderato and received a standing ovation.

After the seniors received their diplomas, Senior Class President Don Marcello accepted the honor of leading his class in putting its tassels on the right side. Then Mark Sumpter led the singing of the Alma Mater.

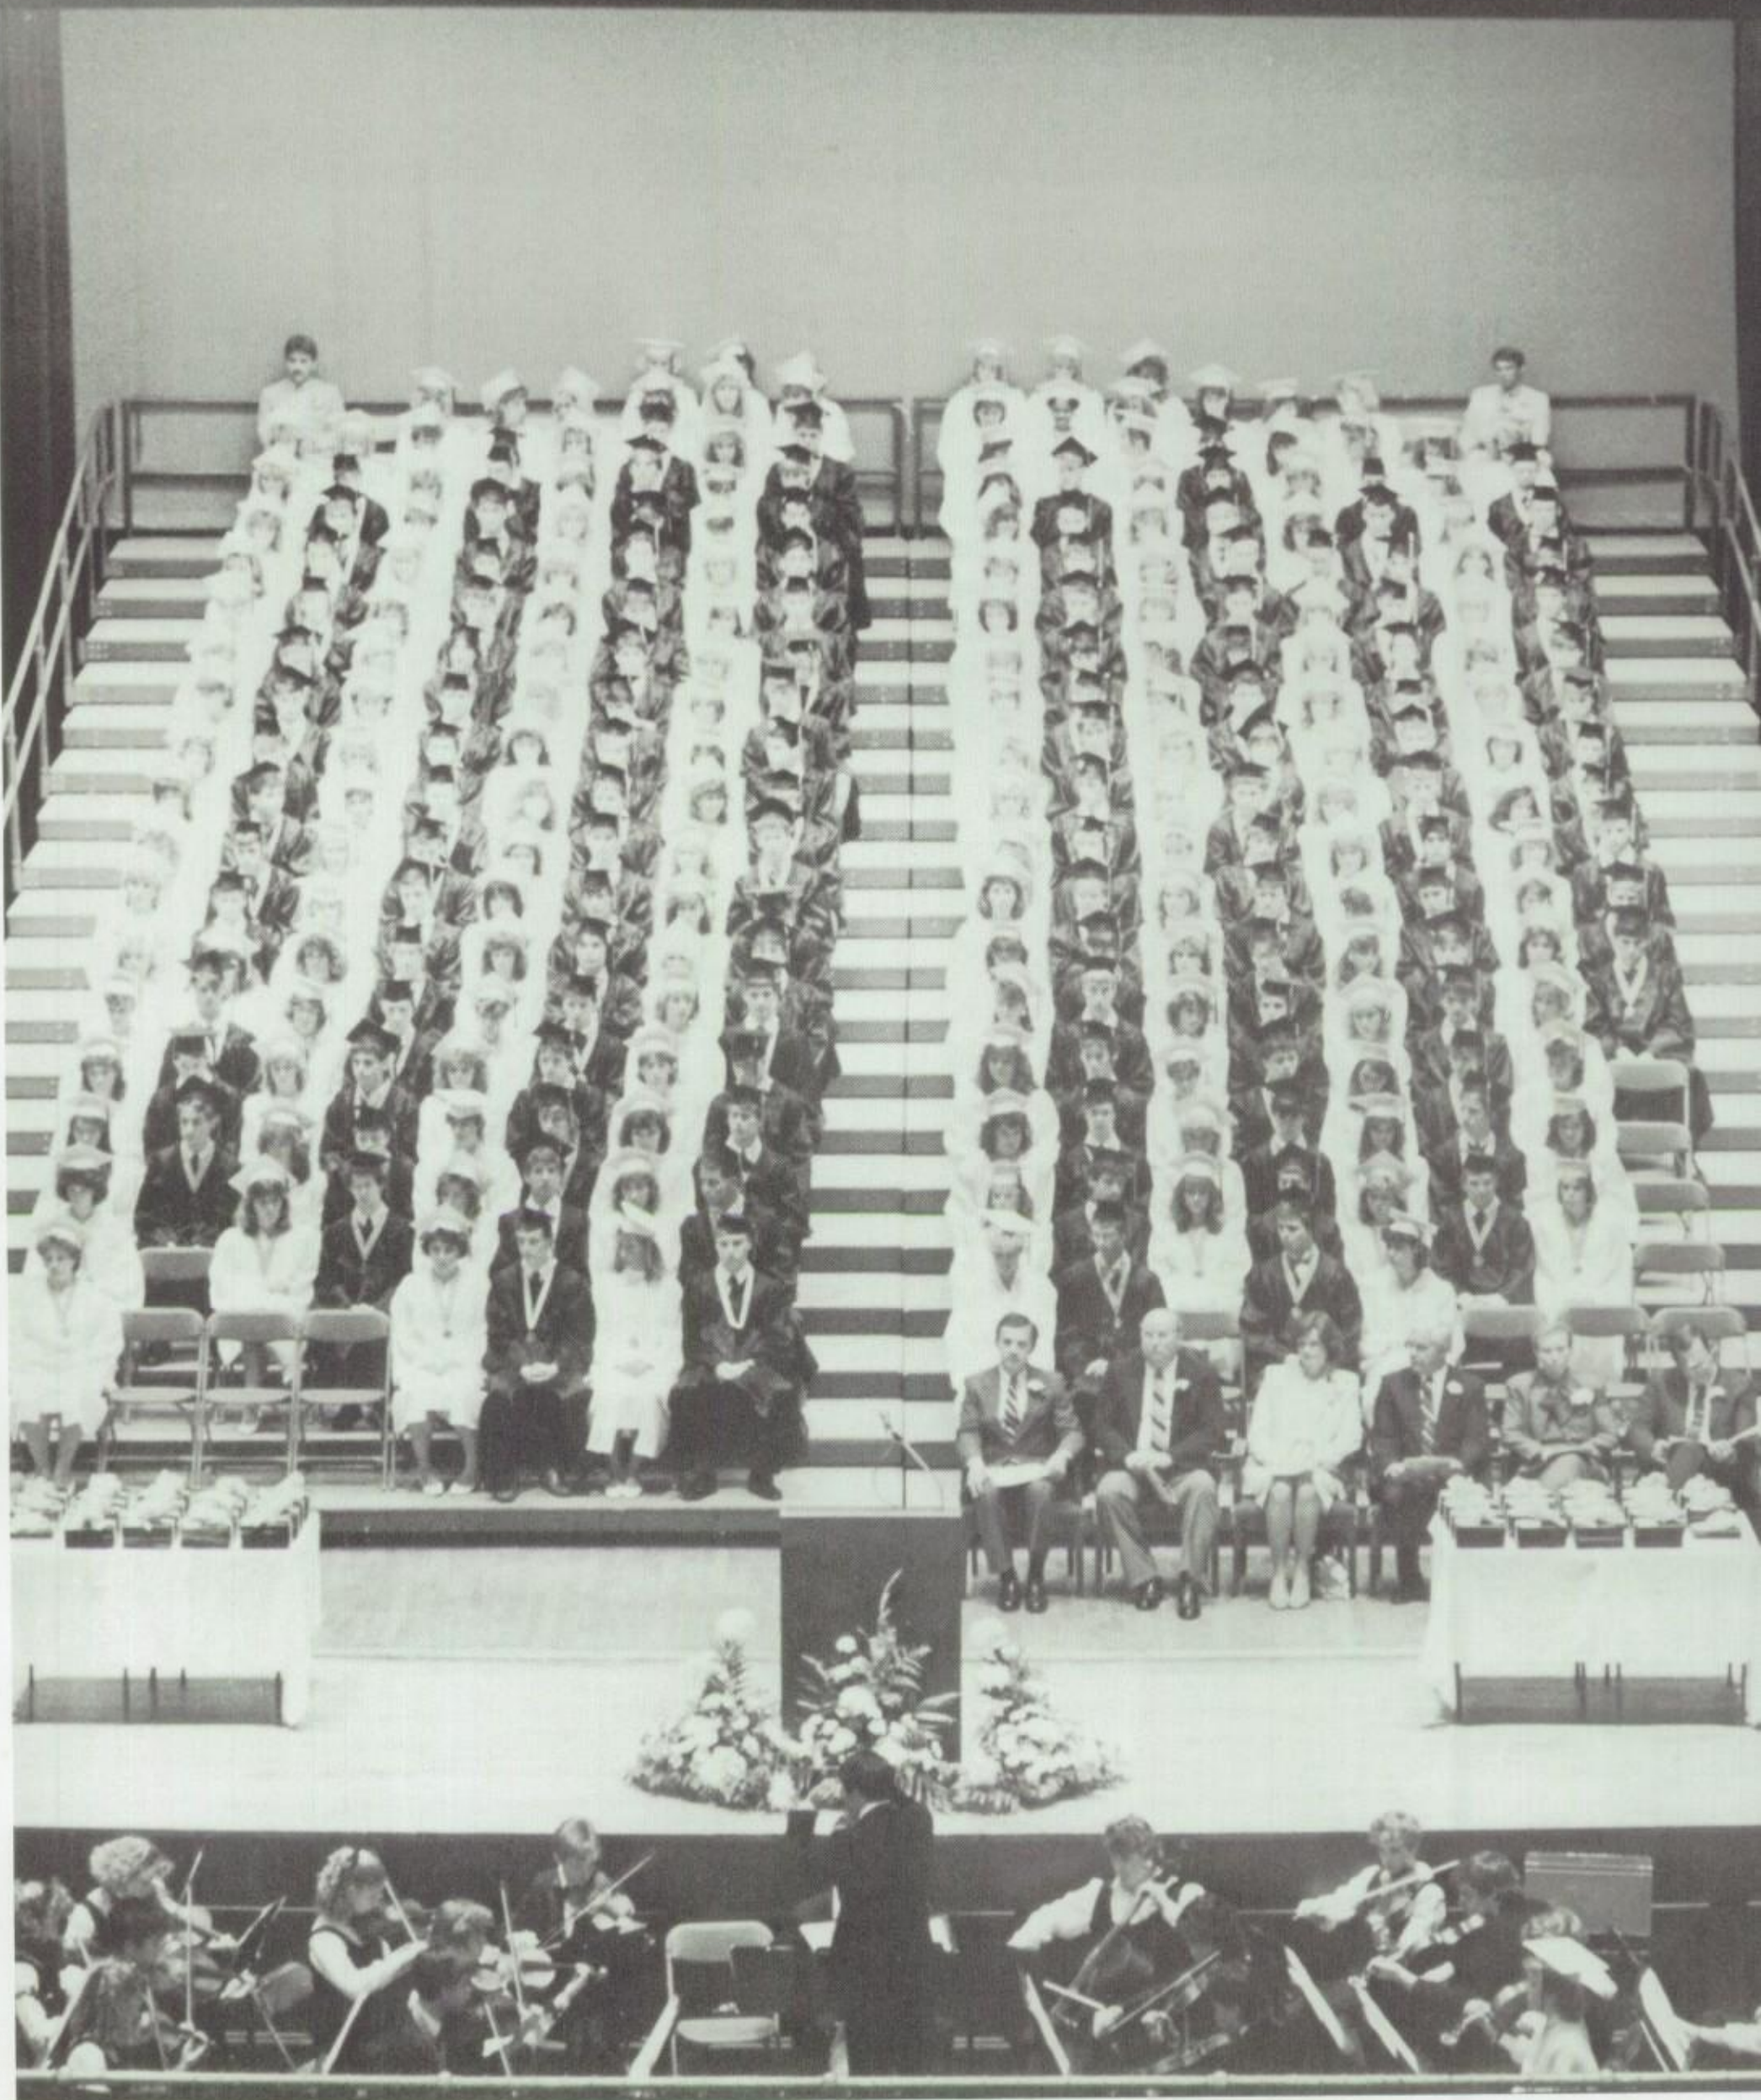

In this 57th Commencement, Thomas Brunner was the valedictorian; Amy Minning was the salutatorian. Juniors Mitch Zimmerman and Susie Vollbracht served as commencement marshalls.

Boys' Soccer Keeps The Dream Alive

The Boys' Varsity Soccer Team surpassed all expectations this year by proving themselves to be real contenders, both physically and mentally. After losing 13 veterans to graduation, this very young team fought on to a 10-6-2 overall record. Coach Hermans credited the good record to strong team spirit and excellent team play. The team played several exciting games, including a hard fought 2-1 victory over Forest Park, two strong wins over Sycamore, and a dominating game against Centerville, again one of the best teams in the state. Unfortunately, the team couldn't stop Turpin as it rolled to the state title. Jim Diana stood out again this year, making the first team on both the EML Team and the All-City Team. He was also named All-City Player of the Year and, once again, scored more goals than the number of games in which he played. Also winning honors were Mark Lobring, 1st Team EML and All-City; Andy Deimling, 1st Team EML and 2nd Team All-City; Wane Lobring, Honorable Mention in the EML.

This year's Reserve Boys' Soccer Team, coached by Mr. Joe Moon, showed its dedication by continuing to fight even when down, proving themselves to be valuable assets for the future. The team's overall record was 8-7-1.

Lady Redskins Tie State Champ Spartans

The 1986 Varsity Girls' Soccer Team had an excellent season. Including tournament play, they carried a 12-6-1 record. They went 4-3-1 in the league, which ranked them in third place. They had several exciting games, including a 1-1 tie with the State Champion Spartans, a 5-0 win over Indian Hill in the tournament and several shutouts against well-known rivals like Milford, Sycamore, and Fairfield.

Individually, the girls also did very well. Stepping up nicely to fill the very big shoes of last year's seniors were senior award winners Krista Miller, Betsy Atzel, and Reagan Smith. Krista Miller was named the team's Most Valuable Player and, along with Betsy Atzel, was given a spot on the

All-Eastern Metro League Soccer Team. Named to the EML Honorable Mention list were Reagan Smith, Allison Courter, Diane Schell, Sandy Ross, and Stacy Madden. Cindy Caito was named Most Improved Player of the team and goal keeper Kelcey Ervick was credited with a season total of six shut-outs.

The girls were coached by Mrs. Ruth Mayhood.

The Reserve Girls' Soccer Team had an equally outstanding year, with an overall record of 10-3-3 and a league record of 4-1-3. Coached by Mr. Steve Zimmerman, this hard working, enthusiastic, young team rolled over Turpin twice and was named the "King of the Hill" Reserve Team.

Victory Over Turpin Lifts Spirits

The highlight of the 1986 Varsity Football season was the Redskins' heart-stopping 6-3 victory over archrival Turpin. The whole team pulled together to shut down their heavily favored opponents — much to the excitement of the crowd. Jeff Richard led a strong defensive effort to hold Turpin to only 3 points, while Mike Ramirez' kickoff return for a touchdown provided the winning points.

Pushed against the wall of a 1-9 record, several 'Skins still showed themselves to have what it takes. First Team All-League nose tackle Rob Stoll and Honorable Mention All-League defenders Korey Mitchell, Don Marcello, and Bill Ramirez led a defense that gave up under 16 points per game. 1st Team All-City offensive tackle Chris Hofmeier, 1st Team All-League offensive guard Rich Farr, and 1st Team All-League receiver Bill Ramirez led an offense that never gave up. Rob Stoll was voted Most Valuable Player and Jeff Richard was named Most Improved Player.

Reserves And Freshmen: Kings Of The Hill

The 1986 Reserve Football Team had an outstanding season. They had an overall record of 5 wins and 5 losses and an Eastern Metro League record of 3-2. Besides winning the King of the Hill Trophy, they became the first Anderson team in 13 years, at any football level, to have had a .500 record.

Leading the Redskin offense with over 750 yards passing, 500 yards rushing, and 8 touchdowns was quarterback Mike Ramirez. Paul Richard kept the 'Skins moving through the air with two touchdown receptions while Robb Hitch opened the holes for Chris Berger and Rob Payne who moved the 'Skins along the ground with 300 yards and 2 touchdowns apiece.

Keeping the opposition out of our end zone were tackles Eric Shafer and Richard Raymond, linebackers Barry Martin and Joe Hamilton, and strong safety John Paxton, team leader in interceptions, caused fumbles, and tackles.

This year's Freshman Football Team finished their season with an overall record of 2-4-1 and a league record of 1-3-1. They were named King of the Hill after defeating both McNick and their classic rival Turpin. Contributing to their victories were leading scorer Chris Morton, running back Mike Pederson, quarterback Scott Thomas, linebacker Will Andreadis, and defensive end Randy Cooper.

The team's three singles players all qualified for the district tournament and five players reached the quarter finals of district competition. Jacqi Ellerbee was named Most Improved Player and the MVP award went to Tiffany Lyon.

Wolfpack: Runs To State

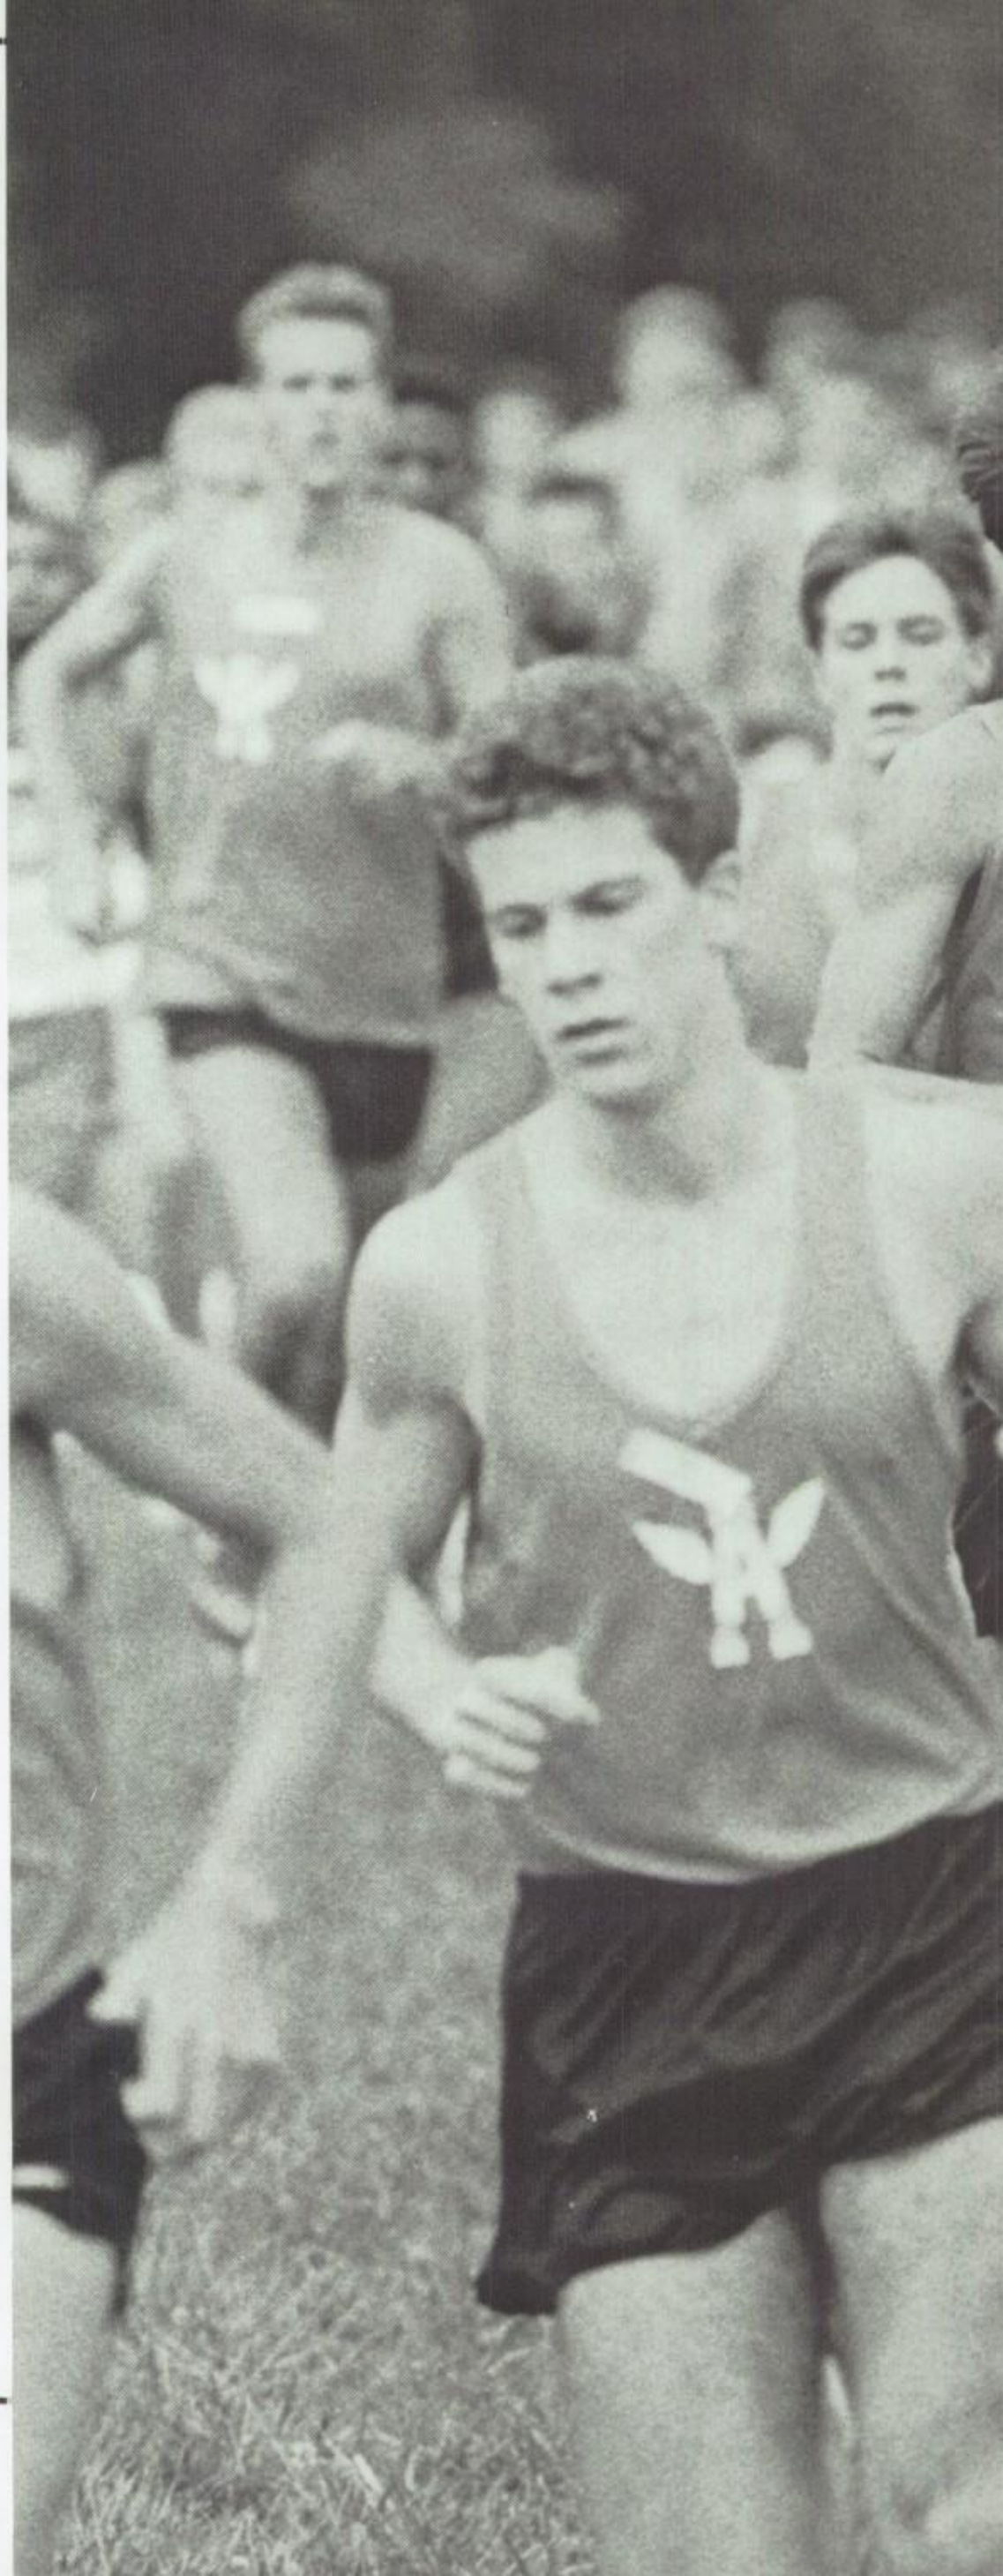

The Boys' Cross Country Team had an excellent season, winning the Eastern Metro Conference in both varsity and reserve divisions. The varsity team also won the Cincinnati District Championship for the second straight year, placed second in the Regional Meet, and for the second consecutive year qualified for the state meet.

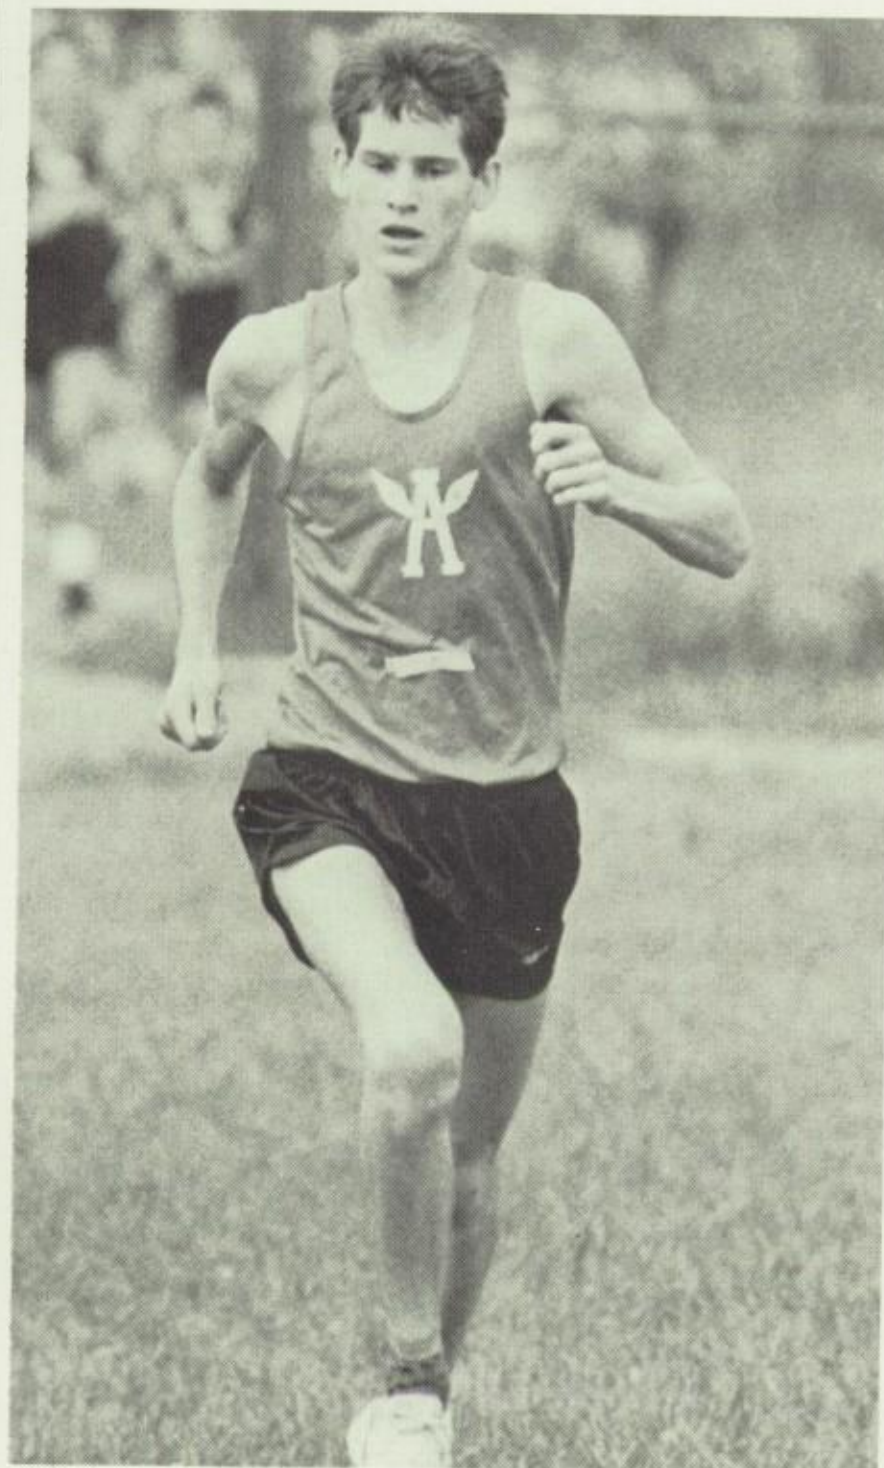

At the front of the pack was Rex Taylor, who led the team in every race. Rex set a new school record of 15:32 for 500 meters. He was rewarded for his outstanding effort, being named 1st Team EML, 1st Team All-City, and All-State, as well as being named Most Valuable Runner. Doug Render had a great season also, and bettered the previous school record for 5000 meters with a time of 15:48. Doug was named to the 1st EML and All-City Teams. Shawn Proffitt made 1st Team EML and All-City 2nd Team. The trio of Brian Hock, Chris Uhl and John Roberts earned slots on the EML 2nd Team. All-City honorable mention went to Brian Hock and Chris Uhl. Adam Ott was the Most Improved Runner.

The team finished the season with a record of 143 wins and 15 losses. Of course, some of the credit for this outstanding season must be given to the superior coaching ability of Andy Wolf, who was named Coach of the Year.

Led by Captain Sheri Jenkins, each of the girls turned out remarkable performances throughout the year. Anne Caldwell was voted Most Dedicated, as well as being named to the 1st Team Eastern Metro League, All-City Honorable Mention, Cincinnati En- quirer All-City Honorable Mention and being a senior award winner. They tied for the "King of the Hill" title with McNick by splitting with McNick and sweeping Turpin twice. Other season highlights included defeating Milford to prevent them from winning the league title, sweeping Turpin, and ending their season with a 4 game winning streak. Meredith Corrigan was named MVP, Jenny Rothel was named MIP, and Molly Stockman was the team captain. Stockman and Corrigan were both named to the 1st Team All-League; Lori Klaas and Jenny Rothel were named to the Honorable Mention list.

Cheerleaders Attend Wittenburg Camp

The Redskin Cheerleading season began in August with a cheerleading camp held at Wittenburg University. The different squads learned many cheers for the upcoming season.

The Reserve Cheerleading Squad, captained by Allyson Bailey and Stacey Shearer, cheered at all of the home and away games. The cheerleaders led the Reserve Football Team to the best record of any Anderson football team in thirteen years. The squad was advised by Ms. Cindy Fries.

The Varsity Cheerleaders organized pep rallies, cheered at football games, and helped boost spirit. Although the football team was not very successful, the cheerleaders were instrumental in drumming up support for the Redskins' stunning, come-from-behind victory over Turpin. The team was captained by Sue Kamiki and Barb Hilgendorf, and advised by Ms. Cindy Fries.

The Freshman Squad supported the Freshman Football Team. The squad was captained by Kathy Drust and advised by Valerie Crowe.

Once again this year the cheerleaders had the support of the Football Mom's Club, who also made signs and buttons to support the Redskins.

Lone High Point: Victory Over Greenhills

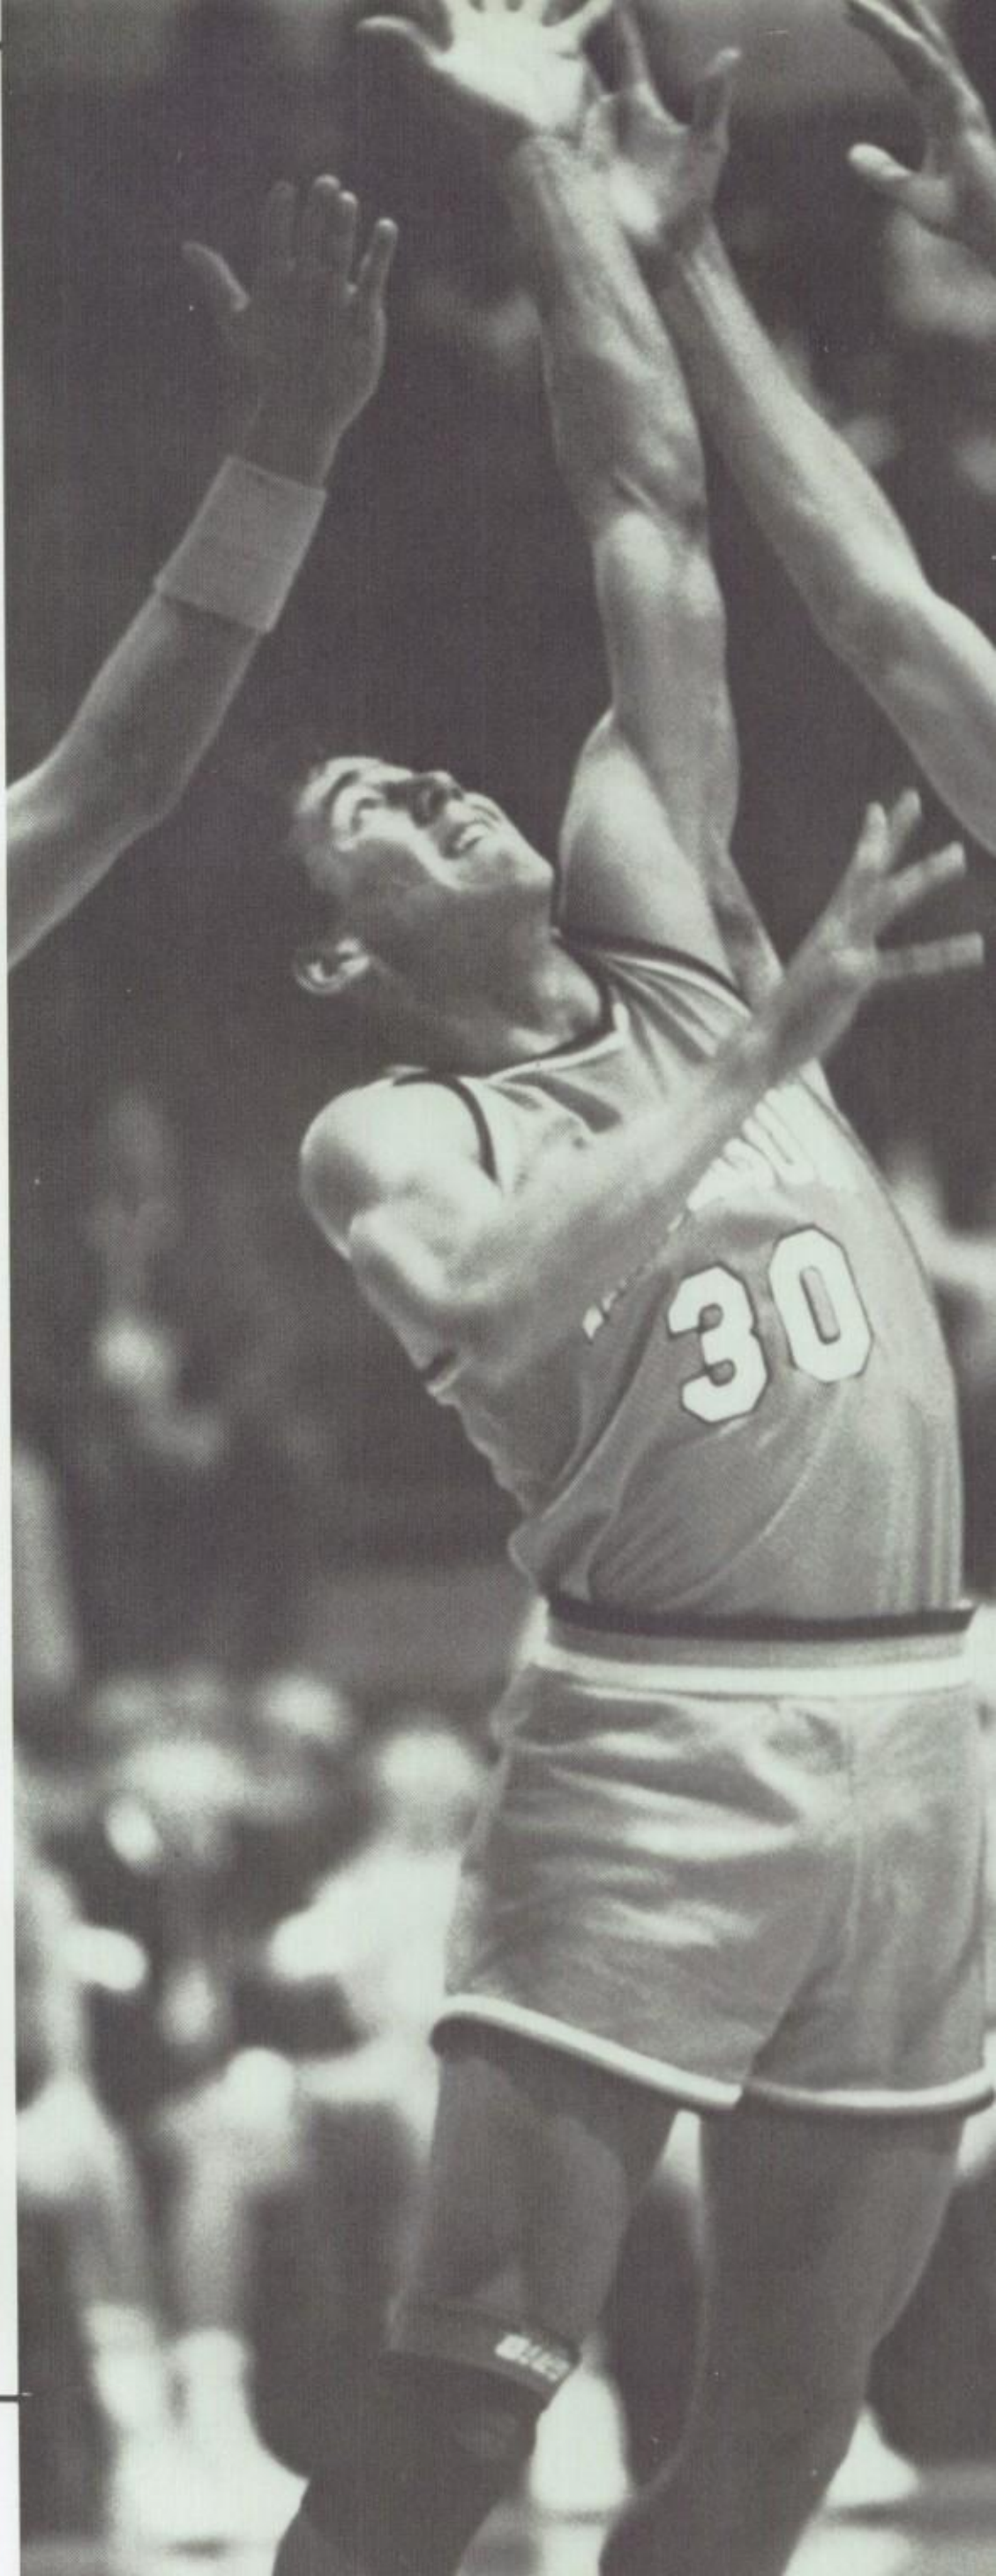

Despite the 1986-87 Varsity Basketball Team's depressing record of 1-19, with a league record of 0-10, the team sported several outstanding players. Putting in constant strong performances and keeping the team's spirit alive, were Bill Ramirez, Paul Richards, and Ken Shelton. This trio also took the title of Eastern Metro League Honorable Mention. The team's only victory came in tournament play against Greenhills, in which they made an impressive second half come-from-behind rally to win with a score of 60-57. Unfortunately, Phil Sinkovich announced this would be his last year as coach of the team.

Young Swim Team Looks To The Future

The Girls' Swim Team, led by senior captain Kathy Updike, ended the season with a record of 3-5. All of the girls worked very hard and greatly improved their individual times, but with such a young team and so few participants it was hard for them to win meets.

Sandy Edgar qualified for the district meet in the 100 m. free style and breast stroke, as did Kathy Updike in the 100 m. breast stroke and the 400 m. free relay consisting of Sandy Edgar, Meg Harshbarger, Kelly Schwenkmeyer, and Chrissy Darling. Jenny Sinkovich and Bridget Hoffman were voted Most Improved and Meg Harshbarger was named Most Valuable Swimmer.

mer at the Sycamore Invitational and the EML Meet. Don Sumner was named Most Improved. The team was captained by Todd Dunham and Scott Atkinson.

The divers provided key points in several meets this season including the dual meet against Turpin where a 1-2-3 finish by the Anderson Divers assured a victory, and an outstanding showing at the League Meet that helped Anderson to a 2nd place finish. Seniors Brad Kuhlman and Rob Biddinger led the diving contingent this season. Brad was the League Champion and placed 8th at the District Meet.

Talented Tracksters Take Team To Top

Once again the AHS Boys' Track Team proved to be a high point in this sports year. For at least the 15th consecutive year, the team made The Cincinnati Enquirer's Top Ten list. Coaches Andy Wolf, Pat Ellis, and Ed Kuhn sent many runners and throwers on to state competition. The team boasted an over-all record of 73-28 and produced many individual champions.

Throwing shot was Chris Hofmeier who ended the season as EML Champ, EML All-league (1st place), District Champ, Regional Qualifier, State Qualifier, Best Field Athlete, Team Captain. He also established a new school record of 56'11.75".

John Roberts ended his senior season as EML Champ (3200 relay), Team Captain, and EML All-League.

Rex Taylor had another outstanding year. He was EML Champ (3200 relay), EML All-league (1st in 3200 relay and 2nd in 3200m run), Best Distance Runner, Team Captain, District Champ, Regional Qualifier, State Qualifier. He established two new school records: 10:37.9 in the 4000m distance medley and 18:05.5 in the 6400m relay.

Junior Doug Render proved that next year's team will be in good hands. Doug was EML Champ (3200 relay), EML All-league (1st in 3200m relay and 3rd in 3200m run), District Champ, Regional Qualifier, State Qualifier. He is now co-holder of the two new school records in the 4000m distance medley and the 6400m relay.

Brian Hock backed up his theory that you don't have to be flamboyant to be great by becoming EML Champ (3200 relay), EML All-league, District Champ, Regional Qualifier, Most Dedicated Athlete, Team Captain. He is the co-holder of the new school records in the 4000m distance medley and the 6400m relay.

Shaping up as next year's premier runner is Shawn Proffitt who finished the year as EML All-league, District Champ, Regional Qualifier, State Qualifier, Most Valuable Athlete. He is the co-holder of the new school records with Render, Hock, and Taylor. He also established an individual record in the 200m steeplechase with a time of 6:29.2.

John Landreth vaulted his way to becoming EML All-league, District Champ, and Regional Qualifier.

Scott Conrad became EML All-league, District Champ, Regional Qualifier, and Most Improved Athlete.

Cut short of his state contender goals, Matt Yerkes still managed a new school record of 41.0 in the 300m intermediate hurdles.

Rounding out this year's batch of talented tracksters were Korey Mitchell, EML All-league in shot put; Chris Hudson, Best Sprinter; and Eric Kroell, Rookie Award.

At the State Meet the Redskins placed 10th, which was the highest finish by a AAA Cincinnati area team. Shawn Proffitt and Rex Taylor each placed at the meet; Proffitt won second place in the 1600-meter race and Taylor finished second in the 3200-meter run.

Then the chorus plunged into the Christmas season, performing in the annual Christmas Concert, Holiday Assembly and a special performance for the Rotary club at the Hall of Mirrors. The winter and spring were mainly spent preparing for various contests. Mixed Chorus offices were held by Maria Lisac, president; Shannon McGee, vice president; Jill Pearson, treasurer; Nickie Karampas, secretary; Dave Schaeff, officer-at-large; Richard Oberacker, accompanist; Kristen Bridges, publicity; and Chris Wick, robes. Publications: Andersonian, Chieftain, and Spectrum

This year marks the beginning of the second quarter-century for Spectrum. The staff, under the leadership of editor-in-chief Lara Miller, spent the year making plans for the continuance of the fine quality of this literary publication. The majority of the year was spent on the selection of original prose, poetry, and artwork submitted by students at Anderson. Lara was assisted by co-editors Pam Alley and Elizabeth Lantow and art editor Jennifer Speller. Mr. Clutter and Mrs. Tobergte were co-sponsors.

Under the new supervision of Mrs. Shrader, the Chieftain took on a whole new look this year. The staff worked hard to produce a professional school newspaper while still entertaining its readers. Throughout the year, the staff gathered news and information to report to the student body. Heading the staff were Erin McKee and Amy Minning, editors-in-chief; Mark Ernst, sports editor; Amy Cummings, features editor; and Amanda Hotchkin, business manager.

The annual Yearbook Distribution Party marked the beginning of a busy year for the Andersonian staff. With only three returning staff members, new workers had to be recruited and trained. All through the year captions were written, layouts were drawn, pictures were identified, and copy was typed. The staff was headed by Advisor Mrs. Brough and co-editors Colleen Hines, Mary Helen Gruber, and Nickie Karampas.

Service And Caring Provided By Student Counselors

The Peer Counselors started their year with a three day training camp in the summer. During the school year, the counselors spent ten weeks each semester talking with fifth or sixth graders. The goal of the program was to help the children learn more about themselves, their feelings, and their values so that they are better able to make good decisions and resist peer pressure. Ms. Hacker was the advisor for the Peer Counselors.

The huge success of last year's beginning Teen Leader group continued strongly this year. The biggest event of the year was the group's trip to the Bergamo Teen Leader Training Session on January 10 and 11. The co-presidents were Don Marcello and Kelly Byrnside. Mr. Sinkovich advised the group.

The Room is a student to student awareness service which offers regular opportunities for anyone to talk freely and openly with others about anything that is on one's mind in a comfortable, living room setting. All students function as counselors there by listening and sometimes giving some helpful or comforting input. It's a program for students, by students.

A new club this year, Youth to Youth, was formed to promote alcohol-free and drug-free lives through activities. Ms. Sheehan was the advisor.

Project Lead, a youth volunteer service program sponsored nationally by the Junior League, was busy this year choosing projects to help themselves strive toward their goal of leadership experience and development. One of the group's projects involved making Thanksgiving baskets for elderly people in downtown Cincinnati.

Hiney Hits Hollywood

Last summer I went to Los Angeles to participate in a program called The Media Workshop. It was held on the UCLA campus and lasted a week. During this week, we heard lectures from motion picture executives, spoke to television directors and writers, and visited quite a few nationally known media centers' such as Warner Brothers, 20th Century-Fox, ABC-TV, and The Los Angeles Times where we spoke to Sheila Benson, the film critic. We saw a taping of Newhart and were allowed to preview a pilot for a new show, tentatively called The Popcorn Kid. Seeing the new movie studios, speaking with the people involved with the production of movies, and just being in Los Angeles was an experience I will never forget.

Ever since I was eleven, I wanted to be in the movies. At first I wanted to be an actress but then I decided I wanted to be behind the camera. I was fascinated with all of the work which went into such movies as the Star Wars sagas and the Indiana Jones movies. I constantly watched shows that explained the making of movies in detail and I realized that this is what I want to do.

I decided I want to direct movies because I like the hectic pace involved in that job and also because directing is so different from a basic 9-5 desk job. Motion picture directing represents artistic freedom to me. I also hope to transfer that freedom to other aspects of movie making such as writing and producing.

I plan to receive a Bachelor of Fine Arts from UCLA and a Master of Fine Arts from the University of Southern California. I know it will be difficult to obtain my goal and many sacrifices will be made. But I do believe that my hard work and dedication toward my dream will make it a reality.

Sue Brewer Pilots Her Future

Following my graduation from Anderson, I hope to be able to attend the University of Colorado at Boulder. Following my trip to Japan, I found I would like to live far away in a new area at a good school, for I have lived my entire life in Cincinnati. I am planning to study political science and international politics in college, while continuing French and Japanese. I am very interested in travel. Following my trip to Japan, I became less interested in areas such as Europe and more interested in areas such as Asia, Africa, and South America, which all have extreme differences from the United States. I even hope someday to return to Japan to live for a few years. In addition to my interest in foreign relations, I also have an interest in flying and feel that if I have a degree in political science and can attain my pilot's license, I would be presented with possible opportunities to travel almost anywhere.

I became interested in AFS after listening to friends talk about their experiences. I applied, following my friends' advice, but nothing seemed like it would happen until I actually got to Japan. Although my stay was short and filled with struggles, it was even fuller with great experiences and terrific friendships.

Following my trip, I felt I had learned a great deal about myself and others. I saw myself and other American students through others' eyes. I am grateful to AFS for this experience and I am now a member of our school's AFS club.

Erin McKee: Tutu-Talented

My study of dance began when I entered my first ballet class at age five. For the next thirteen years, I spent several hours a week rehearsing steps and improving technique. Though I have concentrated primarily on ballet, I have also taken classes in tap, jazz, and modern. My study has led me to various performing opportunities, including solo and ensemble work. Presently, I spend more than twelve hours weekly in ballet classes at the University of Cincinnati College Conservatory of Music where I am a member of the preparatory dance ensemble.

Along with studying a universal form of art and expression, I have learned very special lessons and met extraordinary people through my dancing. I have learned that determination is necessary for success. Only through painstaking work, leaving me at the point of total exhaustion, have I been able to excel. I have also learned extreme discipline required to achieve the precise combination of freedom and control composing ballet. I have learned that it takes diligence, hard work, and dedication to reach my goals. Furthermore, I have worked with talented dancers, gifted musicians, and dedicated teachers who adore and respect their art.

Jill McCullough: In Condition

I became involved in gymnastics at the age of three and have loved it ever since. People think gymnastics is easy, but it is far from that. Gymnastics takes a lot of dedication, self-discipline, and hard work. At times, I was practicing 4 hours a day, 6 days a week, not including all the hours spent traveling to and from meets almost every weekend. Every day we were required to work flexibility, work each of the four events, run both long distance and sprints, lift weights, do aerobics, and finish off with more conditioning and stretching out. But all of my time, hard work, sore muscles, and blistered, calloused hands have paid off. A few years ago, I placed first in the private team state competition of over 200 girls. Then I went on to place third in the regional competition between six states. Since then, I have been on the high school team, placed well in the high school meets, and been named MVP. All of my hard work was definitely worth it. I still love gymnastics as much today as I ever have.

Maria Lisac: Up In Lights

Music has always been a part of my life in one way or another. As a child I remember hearing my mother play the piano, song after song. Soon I discovered those same songs on her records and began spending my time in the room with the old phonograph, holding a jump rope as a microphone, pretending to be Julie Andrews, Mary Martin, Ethel Merman, or Barbara Streisand. Although I was terrified of real audiences, I thrived on my imaginary ones, until my mom told me it was time for bed. The summer before my seventh grade year my mom asked me if I would like voice lessons. I suppose that was the beginning of my performing. Mr. Wesp, my first voice teacher, taught me much more than just vocal technique. He taught me to have confidence in myself and have a good attitude in class. This attitude drifted into other areas, as well; it has definitely had a positive effect on my life as music itself. In my high school's music department, Mr. Wesp, Miss Wetzel, and the chorus teachers have given me a great deal over the last few years. I hope I have given them the music that is part of me in return. Their gift of knowledge and love of music will remain with me wherever I go, perhaps Broadway, perhaps night school, or perhaps even a psychology research center. I have imagined a varied life, but none are without music.

Anne Caldwell Combines Art, Running

I first joined the Cross Country Team when I was a freshman and have been a member of the Varsity Girls Cross Country and Track Teams for four years. I had always played a number of team sports so becoming a runner was quite a transition. I was really surprised at how much I enjoyed running since I was skeptical of the sport at first. I felt it was too individualized. It ended up that what I liked the most about cross country was the closeness and support from the other teammates and the self satisfaction that comes from reaching your personal goals. Although running on a team meant the devotion of a lot of time and hard work, I feel that it was a great experience that I will continue to benefit from for the rest of my life. It has taught me the meaning of dedication.

Art is my other main interest. I have always loved to draw, but it wasn't until my sophomore year that I enrolled in my first serious art class. To be successful in art, like running, consumes a lot of time and requires much self-discipline. It has also shown that improvement is the reward of hard work and effort. Upon graduation, I would like to major in both art and education and I hope someday to be an art teacher and cross country/track coach.

Kristin Orr: Life In England

My first reaction when my father informed our family of his new job in England was one of sheer euphoria. For the remaining weeks of my life in the United States, I entertained myself with thoughts of Big Ben, quaint country pubs, and Yorkshire pudding. Little did I know there was considerably more in store for me, much of which would not be as glamorous as I had initially thought.

The first disappointment came when, after hours of travel on a series of crowded airplanes, I first set foot on British soil into the most miserable weather I had ever experienced. Rain poured from the malevolent, gray clouds, the wind roared in from the North Sea, and the 50° temperature was hardly that common to Cincinnati in August.

My grand expectations were shot down one by one as we spent weeks living out of suitcases in a minute hotel room waiting for our new house to be completed. The weather failed to improve. I could not understand the strange dialect of the inhabitants. I knew no one. I wanted to go home.

My first day at Westfield School finally arrived and was a welcome change from the drab walls of the hotel room. This day was the first that I realized that I was living in England, not just on a three year vacation. This was by no means a pleasant realization. At first, the idea of living in another country had been new and exciting; now it was foreign and strange, and even the familiarity of the hotel room seemed somehow strangely secure.

I had little in common with the girls at my new school. They spoke differently, they dressed differently, they even looked different from me. The future did not look bright.

After a difficult year of frustration and adjustment, I began to feel settled. I had visited a few other countries and gained further insight into their cultures. I became less aware of the many differences between myself and my new friends and began to notice the amazing similarities despite our different backgrounds. They were not so foreign anymore, and even "God Save the Queen" stirred a little something in me.

During my second year in England, I became more involved and set out to get as much out of the experience as possible. I was pleasantly surprised to discover how much easier things became when I approached them with an open mind. I participated in a student exchange to Germany that year. It was awkward trying to communicate with only a year of German experience behind me, and the customs and attitudes of the German family I was staying with were different from my own; but I found it easier to cope having my adjustment to England behind me.

My third and final year posed, perhaps, the greatest challenge I would have to face: Tasis England, and American Boarding School in Surrey. It was an international school offering an American curriculum designed primarily to accommodate American students whose parents worked in England. My parents, initially, refused to consider it since I would have to leave home and board. After numerous debates, my parents began to share my feelings that being in a school with an American curriculum would help me to readjust to the United States school system. This was very important to me as I knew that I would be returning to Cincinnati for my junior and senior years of high school.

We finally agreed that, considering the importance of my junior year relative to college admissions, it would be beneficial for me to readjust my sophomore year in an effort to have the most productive junior year possible.

The prospect of attending boarding school thrilled me. It surprised me a bit that, despite my previous difficult adjustment to Westfield, I was so excited about changing schools yet again. I felt, though, that I was not only ready to accept a new challenge, but that I could prosper in this environment and do so on my own.

The adjustment period at Tasis was short. I quickly made friends with girls in my dorm, as well as other boarders and day students. Although the majority of students were American, there were many students representing many other countries. It was refreshing to discover that despite the differences between the students, everyone was accepted.

I returned to Germany that fall on another student exchange and was not only more comfortable with my ability to communicate in German, but also with the family which hosted me. Meeting and understanding people was becoming easier and easier.

I also spent some time in Russia on a group student exchange with about 100 other Tasis students. Having met some Russian high school students, we found that the hopes and aspirations of Russian teenagers are not vastly different from those of American teenagers.

My year at Tasis flew and, before I knew it, it was time to return to the United States. I was happy to be returning, yet sorry that I would have to leave all the friends I had made over the three years. Facing returning as yet another challenge and looking forward to sharing these experiences with my old friends.

I feel the experience abroad has had an enormous impact on the way I view the world and its people. It has helped me to see myself, as well as others, more objectively as I would not be able to do otherwise. It has helped me to become more aware of other cultures, as well as my own, and has greatly contributed to the way in which I cope with new situations. This has been wonderful growth experience for me and contributed to my interest in an international career in law or business. My three years abroad have also provided a very important lesson about other people, cultures, and nations, and allowed me to discover that different is not necessarily better or worse, it's just different.

Amy Minning: Youth For Understanding

My trip to Japan began with an application to the U. S. Senate Japan exchange program. After answering essay questions and being interviewed by school officials, my application was chosen as one of the top twelve in Ohio. I was then interviewed by a panel of judges and chosen as the first alternate for the full scholarship program. As a first alternate, I received a $1000 scholarship for Youth For Understanding's summer program in Japan.

While in Japan, I lived with a family in a small city less than one hour south of Tokyo. I became part of the family and lived as they lived. I also attended school over there.

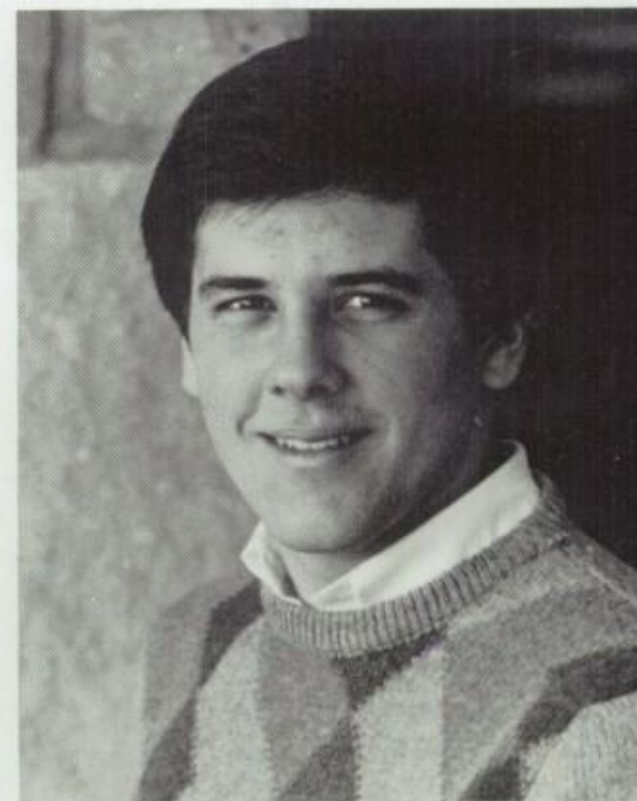

My experience in Japan strengthened my interest in international studies.

Brian Hock: A Portfolio

Running and art run at an even pace in my book. I became interested in both in the eighth grade when I had to take art and went out for cross-country and track. Well it turned out for the best because as a senior I am captain of the cross-country and track teams; in Art I won the all-sports program design and will be sending my portfolio to various shows. I must say that going beyond what you thought you couldn't do is the most rewarding and best feeling a person could have.

Scott Adams: Mood Music

As I look back on my senior year, I would have to conclude that the most rewarding experience was being field commander of the band. This position has meant very much to me throughout the year. I developed my leadership ability very much as a result of being field commander. I consider it a great honor because I was entrusted to lead 80 fine musicians in performances at football games, parades, and contests. Music has always been an integral part of my life. I have worked very hard in Band, Orchestra, Mixed Chorus, and Show Choir. I love music because it allows me to express myself in many different ways, symbolizing all the different moods I am in from time to time. Being field commander has allowed me to express my musical talent as well as exercise my abilities as a leader. This experience will truly benefit me in life as well as augment my wonderful memories of Anderson.

the last three years, I have been involved in the dual sports of Country and Track. I became interested in this when football was too rough and I really had liked to play soccer, but something led me to running. I enjoy running because it gives me a chance outside everyday, through all kinds of weather and to stay in shape. I also find that I meet a lot of interesting people I would normally meet. I usually work out with the team during the season, means the mileage varies, but during the off-season I try to run between five to eight miles a day.

Jill Pearson: Music Afficionado

I have developed my interest in music in the last four years at AHS. I've tried just about every musical group that performs at AHS. Tracy Thomas got me interested in field-commanding. I already loved the music and it gave me a chance to try it in a different seat. Being able to stand in front of a band and to help develop the expression and emotions a piece of music can offer is a phenomenal feeling. I could feel every part of the group and it has helped me to understand how hard it can be to make seventy people into one performance. Yet, I also know that when it works, it means more than anything one could ever do alone.

Mark Sumpter: Music Man

I am very involved in music. Through all my high school and junior high years, I have been very active in chorus and solos. I first started by entering in a solo competition when I was in the third grade. I enjoyed it so much that I just kept singing. I enjoy it because when one sings one can escape to his own dream world. Also, hearing the applause and everyone saying, "Good Job!" makes me feel good. When I first started I didn't practice that much, but after people started encouraging me, I did a lot of practicing. I play the piano and sing about two to three hours a day.

my tennis year round. In the spring I play for the school. In the summer, fall, and winter I play in tournaments in various nearby cities. I came interested in tennis when I was little and I saw my parents play around with the game. I enjoy tennis because I have seen myself improve in the tennis game and it keeps me motivated to strive for the top.

Mary Bryson: A Chemist A' Brewin'

My plans for a career are to be a chemist. I have taken Chemistry I and II and I worked in the Hi-Step program at the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health. I had no real plans for Chemistry until my eleventh grade year. I came back from Live Oaks and I needed the class. I really became interested in chemistry just through the class and working with Mr. Collins. I would have to say that Mr. Collins was my greatest influence. He was the one who asked me if I wanted to submit my application in the first place.

I enjoyed working there because of the people and the new things I learned. It's really very exciting work; there are so many different sections of science to work with. I also worked with biologists. I worked a full forty-hour week, with some overtime.

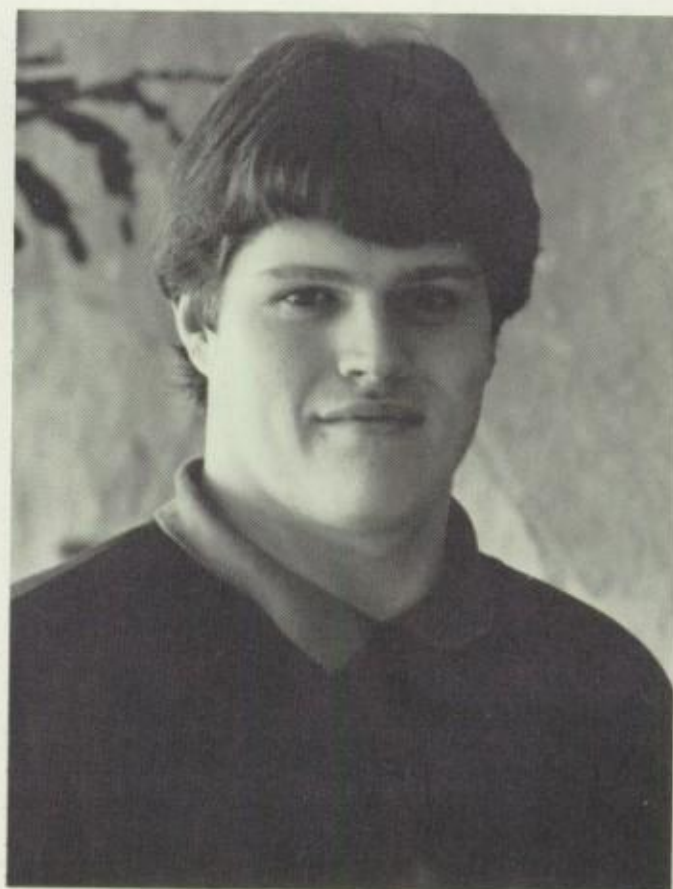

Dave Schaeff: Music Maker

I don't remember how I got started in music. I just know that I started in fourth grade. All through middle school, I was an average vocal singer.

It was the same through ninth grade as well, but in tenth grade, things started happening. By luck, I made Show Choir. I had already been accepted into Mixed Chorus, which is an honor as a sophomore.

In the eleventh grade I went one step further into instrumental music as a percussionist. By doing this, my music reading ability shot-up about 200 percent. Now as a senior, I'm just adding on to what I have, by holding offices in the band and Mixed Chorus, and becoming Assistant Stage Manager for stage crew.

All in all, music has been a dominating factor in my life!

Poet Dave Stubenrauch

I am interested in messages from poetry. I feel that whatever anyone says or thinks can be a poem, so long as it has a message and most poems do. My sense of creativity probably came from my father who is always throwing in a pun whenever it is possible. Once I think up something creative, funny, or unusually different, I write it down and try the line on my father. If he doesn't move a muscle, it was bad, but if he chuckles just a little bit, it was excellent. So far, my interest toward poetry has been the submission of one poem to the editorial staff of The Seven Hills Review, which was suggested by the school librarian, Mrs. Liebold.

Don Marcello: Student Leader

At the end of my sophomore year I decided to run for Junior Class President having no idea what I was getting myself into. It proved to be very time consuming and involved quite a bit of work. I enjoyed the challenge and ran for Senior Class President. I like to get involved in the activities and working with others. I attend a lot of meetings and spend a lot of time with each activity. I really like taking on the responsibility of President of the Senior Class and have gained a lot of knowledge for future responsibilities.

This year the Andersonian Staff consisted of the Magnificent Seven: Seniors Mike Abbott, Mark Ernst, Colleen Hines, Ed Sweeney, and David Warner and Juniors Mary Helen Gruber and Nickie Karampas. Putting together a yearbook is a thankless job but somebody has to do it. We're glad they decided to volunteer their time.

We'll begin with the seniors. Colleen Hines is a veteran staff member; last year she was co-editor and this year she was one of the tri-editors. Colleen worked on many of the activities layouts and stories. We tried to stop her from writing captions — we'd have too many lawsuits. Voted "Most Witty" by her peers, Colleen certainly spiced up many conversations and character assassination sessions. We preferred to call her Miss Vitriolic, a title she has held since freshman year. Besides being Anderson's top verbal hitwoman, Colleen was also an officer in National Honor Society and, ironically enough, was the social committee chairman of Student Council. Next year she will be wreaking havoc on Europe as an exchange student. After that — Hollywood or bust.

A veteran journalist for the Chieftain Staff, Mark Ernst finally realized that the Andersonian Staff was the staff to be on. Mark was our premier typist; we enjoyed listening to his groans, moans, and expletives whenever he made a typing mistake. Besides his interest in journalism, Mark was also very involved in the various drama productions, most recently Fools and Amadeus. The winner of the Ayer Scholarship, Mark will attend Ohio State.

Our other typist was also a first year member. David Warner assisted Mark in typing hundreds of names and senior activities. He probably could have typed thousands of names and activities if only he'd have done his English homework at home instead of in the yearbook office. Besides being a typing wiz, Dave is also a math wiz. He was named as Anderson's "Outstanding Math Student." He was a National Merit Finalist and the winner of several scholarships. Dave will be attending Georgia Tech and will major in electrical engineering.

This was Mike Abbott's first year on the Andersonian Staff, but he conducted himself like a veteran. He was our critical analyst, often giving his own personal critiques of others' work and ideas. Mike could really crank out those sports captions and stories. He perfected his quick writing techniques by writing his term paper in two days. Mike will be attending Georgia Tech, majoring in mechanical engineering. This is the first step toward Mike's goal in life — to design weapons. He refined his verbal weaponry in the yearbook office, decimating all of us at one time or another. Being on the yearbook staff was the highlight of Mike's high school career, although he was also a member of the soccer team, was named as a National Commended Student, and was the winner of the Norman Clark Scholarship. No wonder he was able to go from slave status to god status in a mere year.

Also beginning with slave status as a first year staff member was Ed "The Animal" Sweeney. After compiling and typing the always-horrendous index virtually single-handedly, Ed, too, achieved god status. Even giving up a study hall to work in the yearbook office, he was a dedicated staff member. The yearbook was his life, despite his also being involved in Student Council as vice-president. Ed will be a Redskin again next year — at Miami University. Despite his grade on the Oresteia test, Ed is one smart guy. He was a National Merit Finalist and was the winner of four scholarships. Ed will major in political science, although we think he should switch to English.

Now for the juniors . . . Mary Helen Gruber was one the tri-editors this year. When she wasn't having man trouble, she worked on the sports and advertising sections. Besides working behind the scenes on the yearbook, she also worked behind the scenes on the drama productions, designing and painting scenery. She was also involved in chorus and peer counseling. She was the winner of the Brown Book Award and received district Honorable Mention honors in the English 11 Scholastic Tests. She is a member of National Honor Society and Cum Laude Society.

Nickie Karampas was the glue that held the staff together. As a tri-editor, she not only took care of her own sections, but also pitched in to help when other sections needed assistance. Assuming responsibility is not new to Nickie. She demonstrated this ability as secretary for the Mixed Chorus and as a member of Student Council. It's no wonder that Nickie was named as the "Outstanding Junior." She is also a member of Cum Laude Society and National Honor Society.

The staff would also like to thank Mr. Furrier for the class lists and the computerized alphabetical listing. Also, thanks to Mr. Penwell for running down renegade coaches so that we could write the sports stories.

Finally, thanks to Dick Chiara, AYC Representative; Pat McKenrick and Executive Lab; and Gary Brenner and Executive Studio for all their help.

Deb,

Hey, Hope you have a great senior ~~class~~ year.

Jason
Cavanaugh

The memories that friends have made together grow stronger with every passing day.

It is a special gift
From God to find a friend who will Remain a FRIEND
FOREVER.

the guys I've liked. You've had your fair share you know? I admit that just this summer it was 3 but I was totally innocent with them all. Unlike someone else we know. !! (No, I'm not talking about you. Think real hard and you'll get it.)
Yea that's her.

You know it's really weird how some people go through "BEST FRIENDS." Its like they start hanging around other people and they forget about their other friends. But not us.
We find other friends but we never ever forget about each other. We're more than best friends and everyone knows it. You SDS to me. Don't you ever forget that.

"A Friend Forever"
Friendship defies age
and ignores distance.
It weathers the hard times and shares the good.
Together we have found this our friendship has provided acceptance and understanding in a world that pushes people apart.
But I will always remain with the memories of the times we have shared knowing how fortunate I am to be able to call you my friend.

Forever Friends
Debbie
